IF PEACE TALKS FAIL ARMAMENTS WILL BE SPEEDED

PRIME MINISTER DISCUSSES PEACE AND ARMAMENTS PROGRAM IN COMMONS

LONDON, March 7.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today that if the vital peace talks with Italy and Germany, opening this week, failed Britain would speed up her already gigantic rearmament program.

But he said if the negotiations succeeded disarmament would follow in due course.

The conservative majority repeatedly cheered the prime minister as he explained his policy of rearming and at the same time trying to prevent Europe drifting "toward the cataract of war" by means of frank talks with the leaders of Italy and Germany.

Answering opposition charges that he was biased in favor of the dictatorships, Chamberlain in a fighting speech replied:

"I have to deal with a world in which distatorships exist. I have no interest in other systems of government except insofar as they react on other countries. I have no bias in favor of Nazism, fascism or bolshevism, because all of them seem to be inconsistent with what is all important to me because it is the root of my political creed—that is, individual liberty."

The prime minister, opening a momentous "full dress" debate on defense and foreign policy, repeated the government's prediction of last week that the original estimate of $7,500,000,000 for the five-year plan launched last year would not be sufficient.

"For the preservation of democracy," Chamberlain declared, "I would fight myself and I believe the people of this country would fight.

"The course we are pursuing by putting forward our present program is the surest way of avoiding the dread necessity of fighting at all.

"Subject to reasonable restriction I believe in liberty of thought and action, without which there can be no true democracy. I do not believe that democracy need necessarily be less efficient than other systems of government. It may sometimes lag behind in making its decisions, but democracy can do what no dictatorship can afford to do—democracy can afford to make mistakes."

Naval Fleet Review.

LONDON, March 7.—(AP)—Parliament debate on the strength of Britain's defense forces and a grand fleet naval review formed a gun-studded background today for the opening of Britain's peace talks with Italy and Germany.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's request for a vote of confidence on the government's estimates for armament expenditures brought an immediate opposition attack, but the debate in house of commons did promise to uncover de-

County Hospital Free From Debt; Officers Named

All outstanding indebtedness of the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital, a county institution, was ordered paid at the March meeting of the Navarro county hospital board Sunday afternoon in addition to the current bills, making the institution clear of debt for the first time in a number of years. Officers for the ensuing year were re elected and two smaller Frigidaire units were purchased to replace the present big refrigeration unit.

Officers re-elected were C. O. Weaver, Dawson, president; Z. T. Banks, Corsicana, vice president; Paul Moore, Corsicana, secretary treasurer. Other members of the board are J. P. Johnson, Blooming Grove; Dr. O. C. Bowmer, Corsicana, and Dr. Gurley H. Sanders, Kerens.

The new refrigerators were purchased from Drew Gillen, Blooming Grove dealer, at a cost of $337.50 with the old unit.

The February collections amounted to $1,342.70.

In the report of Miss Edna Benson, superintendent, there were 64 patients admitted into the institution during February, including 13 charity patients. The charity during February amounted to $470 by the hospital and $783 by physicians.

Arnold to Accept.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Thurman W. Arnold, 47-year-old Yale professor, notified the justice department today he would accept a nomination as assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust division.

FOURTEEN PERSONS DIED VIOLENTLY IN TEXAS THIS WEEKEND

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS ACCOUNTED FOR ONLY TWO, LEAST IN MANY WEEKS

(By The Associated Press)

At least 14 persons died deaths by violence in Texas during the week-end.

Highway accidents accounted for two, the least number in many weeks; six died in shootings, three were killed in a plane crash, one was electrocuted, another injured fatally in a rodeo, and one burned to death.

The dead:

P. F. Hotchkiss, 45, Fort Worth pilot; Dudley Colding, 40, Dallas oil man, and A. F. Bowden, 42, Dallas tax expert, killed in a plane crash near Corpus Christi.

Ucalio Elizando, 40; Jose Cantu, 54, and Ramon De La Cruz, 34, killed in a gun battle near Rio Grande City.

Mrs. Jesse May Abernathy, Dallas; Frazier Moss, 38, Fort Worth oil man, and Lee Casey, 37, of Clarendon wounded fatally in three separate shootings.

Much Activity Result Producer Flag Lake Area

Numerous leases have been recorded involving acreage in the extreme eastern and northeastern section of Navarro county as a result of the fine producer completed in the Flag Lake (Tool) area in western Henderson county several days ago.

Good prices in a number of instances have been reported.

Attaches of the assessor and collector's office at the courthouse have reported that several property owners have payed delinquent taxes with their lease money secured during the past 10 days, while in other instances, new automobiles, etc., have been reported purchased here and at Kerens.

Much of the land in that area has already been leased and large blocks are understood to have been under lease for some time. Some trading in royalties have been recorded in the county clerk's office, although no material rush in filings and recordings has been experienced.

Von Cramm, Net Star of Germany, Been Arrested

BERLIN, March 7.—(AP)—Baron Gottfriend von Cramm, Germany's great tennis player, was arrested today by the criminal police on "serious charges."

While admitting von Cramm had been arrested, police headquarters declined to divulge the nature of the charges. It was admitted authoritatively later, however, that he had been taken into custody on "suspicion of moral delinquencies."

The tennis star had arrived home only a few days ago after a world-wide competive tour.

Now 28 years old, Baron von Cramm had been listed in the "first ten" of world tennis players since 1932. He ranked second to Fred Perry in the world rankings for 1936 and second to America's Don Budge last year.

LAMNECK HITS AT TAX ON CLOSELY HELD CORPORATIONS

DECLARES TAX AIMED AT SOME CERTAIN PERSON AND HE OPPOSES IT

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—(AP)—Representative Lamneck (D Ohii), told the house today the tex revision bill's surtax on closely held corporations was "discriminatory and unjust."

"There is no question in the world this tax is aimed at somebody," he said. "Who is it? Is it the newspapers which are critical of the administration? Most of them are closely held. Is it big corporations like Henry Ford? If so, this tax would murder a lot of other people to get at them.

"Someone, somewhere, is after some corporation or some group of corporations. If there were only one corporation subject to this tax, I'd be against it because of its principle."

Lamneck, a member of the ways and means committee which drafted the bill, led a bi-partisan attack on the measure. Before he took up the cudgels against it, Representative Fish (R-NY) had denounced its terms and criticized the failure to provide revenue to balance the budget.

The Ohio democrat asserted it was different "to conceive of a tax less based on ability to pay" than the surtax on closely-held corporations.

This tax, he said, would impose on such corporations a 56 per cent greater burden. If all profits

GOVERNMENT GIVEN VERDICT FOR TAXES AGAINST MITCHELL

NUMEROUS MATTERS PASSED ON BY SUPREME COURT MONDAY SITTING

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—The government succeeded in the supreme court today in its effort to collect a $364,354 deficiency assessment imposed against Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Company of New York, on the ground of "fraud with intent to evade" paying 1929 income tax.

Justice Brandeis delivered the opinion that reversed a ruling by the Second Circuit court of appeals in favor of Mitchell.

Mitchell was acquitted in June, 1933, after trial on an indictment charging that he fraudulently attempted to evade a $728,709 tax upon his net income for 1929.

Despite the result of the trial, the commissioner of internal revenue sought to collect the $728,709 tax, plus $364, imposed in addition by reason of alleged fraud.

Among other actions today:

The justices agreed to stay, pending the filing of a petition for rehearing, their recent action in refusing to review the conviction of 12 persons on charges of conspiracy to commit election frauds at Kansas City, Mo., during the 1936 election.

The court agreed to review a lower court decision enjoining the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union from picketing the Donnelly Garment Company of Kansas City, Mo., or attempting to unionize its employes.

SENATE COMMITTEE VOTES TO ABOLISH DEPARTMENT FUNDS

BODY IS SEEKING WAYS AND MEANS TO ECONOMIZE IN STATE REGIME

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—The Texas senate's new interim committee began work today by voting unanimously to recommend abolition of all special departmental funds and turning them into the state's general fund.

The group, named to work on the departmental budget bill with the idea of cutting expenses without impairing efficiency, also asked the state comptroller for all departmental payrolls for a study they estimated would be completed next December.

Their report will be completed before the next regular session of the legislature in January, 1939, members said before they recessed subject to call of the chairman, expected early in April when they planned to begin a process of eliminating "unnecessary positions and non-essential services."

In a brief session members struck at several departmental practices, Senator Morris Roberts

AUTHORITIES WORK AGAINST PESTILENCE IN FLOOD SECTOR

$65,000,000 LATEST ESTIMATE ON PROPERTY DAMAGE; 177 DEAD

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—(AP)—Authorities worked today to prevent pestilence, eternal rear-guard of disaster, from breaking out in flood-devastated Southern California.

From the upper segment of the Santa Ana river to Fullerton, near its mouth in the Pacific, health officials made typhoid innoculations.

No cases of the disease have been reported, but sanitation conditions were dangerous. Typhoid serum was flown to Colton, near San Bernardino, where the water supply was cut off.

Dr. J. A. Champion, Colton health officer, said there was "some danger" that typhoid might break out. Water distilled in a citrus by-products factory was being rationed out to residents.

The toll of dead and missing in the giant deluge caused by prolonged torrential rains last week was raised to 177 with reports from the San Bernardino region last night.

Most recent estimates of damage done to private and public property still stood at the $65,000,000 mark.

Large armies of workmen labored today to dig the flooded area out from under its blanket of silt and mud. Ten thousand homeless were being cared for.

GOVERNOR ALLRED IN WICHITA FALLS BUT POLITICS STILL HOT

ANOTHER M'CRAW QUESTIONNAIRE RELEASED FROM CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S OFFICE

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred was in Wichita Falls today but the heat of political controversy was not lacking in the capitol.

The chief executive's office released a statement prepared by Allred in which he reiterated a demand that Attorney eneral William McCraw, candidate for governor, "make a serious statement of any principle for which he stands."

The governor charged McCraw had dodged questions he propounded to all candidates last December, including their stand of old age pensions, child labor amendment, sale of liquor by the drink, legalized race track gambling, sales tax, additional natural resources taxes and state income taxe.

"Thinking people on both sides of these questions want to know where the candidates stand," Allred said.

"To this good hour no one knows where Bill McCraw stands on any of these issues or any other important problems of government."

The attorney general declined comment. Previously, he had said he was glad the governor was "doing his own talking instead of operating through his 'Charlie McCarthys,' Hill and Holbrook. Complete Details Meeting Thursday Night Junior High

Every employer and employee of every business establishment in Corsicana and Navarro county has been extended an urgent invitation to attend the "Employers and Salespeoples Forum" at the Corsicana Junior High School Thursday evening at 7:30.

Arrangements for the meeting have been completed by a special committee composed of S. J. Miles, chairman, Festus A. Pierce, and W. H. Smith for the Trade Extension committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce headed by Sydney Marks.

Speakers have been provided on both inspirational and informational subjects and Chairman Marks will be the presiding officer.

"We want every employer and employee from the smallest filling station to the largest wholesale firm to attend the meeting and learn some facts about their own town and county and its prospects and also to hear some suggestions for better merchandising," a spokesman for the committee stated.

Seven Killed As French Airliner Falls in India

NEW DELHI, India, March 7.—(AP)—Three French passengers and the four-man crew of an air France line were killed today when the plane crashed in flames near Datia capital of the state of that name in central India. One of the passengers was a woman.

A rescue party including the prime minister of the state, went to the scene but the bodies of all aboard har been trapped in the flaming wreckage.

The plane, in the regular service between Hanoi, French Indo-China, and Paris, crashed after taking off from the town of Dum Dum in Bengal. It left Calcutta last night west bound.

Chief of Police Urges Citizens Report Stray Dogs

Corsicana residents were urged to report the presence of stray dogs or cats in the vicinity of the premises to the police department, telephone 199, promptly by Chief of Police Bruce Nutt Monday after it was learned a dog believed to have been infected with rabies was known to have ranged widely over the city biting numerous animals.

The dog was killed near the State Home Saturday and the head sent to Austin for examination but no report had bee received early Monday. Two boys were bitten at the Home and several head of cattle and horses attacked.

A number of dogs were killed by the city officers Saturday and they are prepared to answer all reports promptly in an effort to prevent spread of rabies.

Chief Nutt urged pet owners to take special precautions with their animals if there had been any danger of infection, and also to report strays promptly. He asked the citizens as far as possible to keep track of the animals reported during the interim between the call and the arrival of the officers.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SEEKING TO CANCEL CEMENT CHARTERS

DAMAGES AS HIGH AS $30,000,000 ALSO SOUGHT IN ACTION MONDAY

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—Attorney General McCraw today filed suit here seeking cancellation of charters and penalties aggregating possible $30,000,000 against six major cement manufacturing companies of Texas.

The suit, charging violation of Texas anti-trust laws, was against the Lone Star Cement Corporation, with principal offices in New York and Dallas; the Southwestern Portland Cement Company, Los Angeles and El Paso; Trinity Portland Cement Company, Chicago and Dallas; Universial Atlas Cement Company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, Chicago and Dallas; Longhorn Portland Cement Company, San Antonio; and the San Antonio Portland Cement Company, San Antonio.

The bill of complaint, filed in Travis county district court, charged the companies entered into price-fixing agreements about Jan. 3, 1929, when the Cement Institue, with headquarters in Chicage, was formed.

It also attacked a "code of ethics" and a "compendium of established terms and marketing methods," adopted by cement manufacturers, alleging they had led to identical terms of sale and marketing practices.

Specific Amount Not Set.

The 76-page petition did not ask for a specific amount of damages but requested statutory penalties of from $50 to $1,500 daily against each of the defendants for 3,348 days, or from Jan. 3, 1929, to March 7, 1938.

The jury or court would determine the exact amount which might range, if the state was successful on trial, from a minimum of $1,004,400 to a maximum of $30,132,000.

It was the second big damage suit charging violation of the anti-trust laws to be filed in Texas in recent years.

Another was against virtually all the major oil companies operating in Texas. This suit, still pending, also sought forfeiture of charters to do business, and penalties aggregating millions of dollars.

The state supreme court, after a bitter court battle, last fall upheld the constitutionality of civil provisions of Texas' anti-trust laws.

Test Case Decision Soon.

A case testing the validity of the criminal penalty provisions of the statutes is expected to be decided soon by the state Court of Criminal Appeals.

The attorney general's department has been working on the case for months. A committee of the state house of representatives also has conducted exhaustive investigations into operations of ce-

INSURGENTS DEALT SWIFT REVENGE IN BATTLESHIP LOSS

PORT OF CARTAGENA RAIDED FROM AIR FIVE TIMES BETWEEN MIDNIGHT, NOON

MADRID, March 7.—(AP)—In swift revenge for the government's first big naval victory—the torpedoing of the insurgents' cruiser Beleares — Generalissimo Francisco Franco's airmen raided the port of Cartagena five times between midnight and noon today.

The government communique announcing the raids failed to mention casualties but said the government naval force based there escaped damage.

Two attacks came in the night and two more about 8 a. m., when two squadrons swept in from the Mediterranean near the spot where the 10,000-ton Baleares was hit in yesterday's naval engagement. The fifth attack was carried out at noon.

Meanwhile congratulatory telegrams poured in on the Cartagena naval commander for the victory over eight insurgent was vessels in the Sunday battle.

The government victory left a gaping hole in the insurgent blockade of the eastern Spanish coast.

Admiral Juan Cervera, commander of Franco's fleet, ordered all second line craft to speed to Palma, Mallorca, to reinforce the blockade. (Cervera was confident the blockade caould be enforced despite the loss of the Beleares.)

THREE-WAY OFFENSIVE BEING WAGED IN TEXAS AGAINST USE OF MARIHUANA, OTHER 'DOPE'

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—A three-flank offensive is being waged in Texas against marihuana and other narcotics.

Federal, state and local officers, armed with air-tight laws, have deployed in an attack which they assert is bringing results.

Hampered until recently by statutes which allegedly defied convictions, state and local police have a cudgel in the form of a uniform narcotics act now effective in many states and so strong "you can almost arrest a man for thinking about narcotics," said W. H. Richardson, Jr., chairman of the public safety commission.

The public safety department's narcotics division, created at the last general session of the legislature, includes seven operatives under command of Captain Jerome B. Wheatley, veteran ranger and investigator. Their work ties in closely with local officers in every county and with federal agents stationed in San Antonio, Houston, Beaumont and Dallas.

Much of their attention is directed toward marihuana, the only drug which destroys brain tissue, which perhaps accounts for its strange effects on the mental processes. The victims either develops an all engulfing love for mankind or a fiery hatred and desire to kill.

The drug is sold in cigarettes—at 25 cents each—called "reefers," "muggles," "teanz" "Mary Weaver," "Moocah" and "weed."

There has been much discussion lately about nefarious sale among high school students, but officers declare they have found no evidence of it in Texas.

Peculiarly, some persons think first of Texas when marihuana is mentioned but the fact is the

ARTHUR E. MORGAN REFUSES TO RESIGN TVA CHAIRMANSHIP

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Arthur E. Morgan indicated today he would stick to his post as chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority despite suggestions of his two co-directors that he resign.

"To surrender the chance to make some contribution to decency and effectiveness in government does not seem to be the right course," he said.

Asserting a firm belief in the social and economic aims of the TVA experiment, Morgan added: "For those great possibilities to be lost by habits of misrepresentation, intrigue and arbitrary action seems tragic."

His latest thrust in an open battle with Harcourt Morgan and David E. Lilienthal, the other TVA directors, disclosed that dissension had existed in the agency for nearly three years.

Chairman Morgan's latest statement, made public last night, was a letter which he had written on Feb. 14 to Representative Maverick (D-Tex).

Responding to Maverick's assertion that TVA had contracted to sell the bulk of its power to "monopolistic" companies instead of the public power agencies, he said relations of the TVA and "the Aluminum Company" failed to protect the public interest.

(Presumably, he referred to power contracts made with a

NAVY PLANNING TO SPEND BIG SUM ON EXPERIMENTAL SURFACE AND AIRCRAFT IN NEW PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—The navy is getting ready to spend $8,000,000 on experimental air and surface craft which some officials eye dubiously but nevertheless are eager to try.

That sum is earmarked in the billion-dollar fleet expansion bill to build a dirigible and swift "mystery" coast patrol boats recently developed by foreign powers.

Concentrating on replacement of aging battleships and other large craft, the navy heretofore has turned its back on the possibilities of a "mosquito fleet." Officers have called such craft ill-suited to American defense needs.

Senator Borah said last night:

"Every war in these times is for defense. The World War was for defense on both sides. Japan is now, according to her statements, conducting a war against China in self-defense.

"I do not believe that this huge spending program can be justified upon any reasonable conception of national defense," Borah added, declaring it was "a long step toward world bankruptcy and possibly toward war."

The bill probably will come before the house late this week.

Italy is credited in naval circles with more than 100 such speed craft, able to speed 50 miles or more an hour. Britain is reported to have 78.

Whipping around when nearing their target, some of these boats discharge two or four torpedoes from the stern. They also carry depth charges to combat submarines. Crews vary from six to 18 men.

The roaring little craft, larger and heavier but otherwise similar to racing motorboats, depend for protection on their speed and

COMMON SAWDUST TO AID IN ELIMINATION PESKY GRASSHOPPER

ENTOMOLOGISTS FIND SAWDUST, BRAN AND SODIUM ARSENITE BE FATAL

COLLEGE STATION, March 7.—(Spl.)—Common Sawdust, preferably weathered for a year, is being drafted as shock troops for the campaign farmers and federal and state entomologists plan to wage against threatened grasshopper infestation this year.

It isn't cricket, or in other words it's a dirty trick, to make a condemned grasshopper eat sawdust in order to die, some fair-minded people may say. But members of the Texas grasshopper control committee, meeting at Texas A. and M. College, figured a grasshopper killed by any means it better than a live hopper, especially when the hopper tribe will endanger crops on some 3,000,000 acres of fertile Texas land this year.

Entomologists have found a combination of sawdust, mill-run bran or "red dog" flour, and sodium arsenite will kill the hoppers almost as effectively as more costly mixtures. The bran and sodium arsenite, when mixed with water, form a dough and coat the sawdust. Mr. Grasshopper likes to nibble the dough-covered flakes, but when he does he eats enough of the arsenite compound to kill him.

"Zero hour" for the attack, the control committee has decided, will be about April 15 when the first hoppers begin to emerge. By attacking quickly, the workers hope to thin out the first generation of hoppers considerably before they have time to multiply and organize for a march on the croplands.

Pays Good Dividends.

Grasshopper control work directed by the committee in 1937, it is estimated, saved farmers $6,000,000 and produced $110 in results for each dollar spent. An index of the damage that otherwise might have been done by teh hoppers last year, control workers said, is found in the fact that sections which did not co-operate in the 1937 campaign suffered approximately $3,000,000 in crop loss. The loss, they added, was borne to a large extent by seven counties.

Entomologists who made hopper egg counts during the fall and winter, estimated hoppers left over from the 1937 infestation lead enough eggs in 77 counties in Texas to warrant assumption the insects will be present in record numbers this spring and summer. They estimate 14,000 tons of poison mash material, left over from the 1937 campaign, are stored in the state and are available for immediate use. The federal government will furnish part of the remaining 13,000 tons, and the rest will be provided by the communities participating in the campaign.

Federal entomologists are experimenting to find a capable substitute for sawdust for use in localities where it is not available in quantity. Bran and sodium arsenite can do the job even without sawdust, if necessary, they said.

A number of federal employees, one to each county where damage is expected, probably will be available to assist county agricultural agents in the control work.

The Texas grasshopper control committee includes J. M. Del Curto, state department of agriculture entomologist, and the following Texas A. and M. staff members: Extension Director H. H. Williamson, Extension Entomologist R. R. Repport. Dr. F. L. Thomas, state entomologist, and Dr. S. W. Bilsin, head of the entomology department in the school of agriculture. Williamson is committee chairman and Repport is state grasshopper control leader. Dr. W. E. Dove and Fred D. Butcher, federal field workers in the grasshopper campaign, met with the committee when it made its plans for the attack.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Barry Club.

"Make your kitchen attractive, for a woman spends 75 per cent of her time there," Miss Clara Rettiger told 12 members of the Barry Home Demonstration club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. S. B. Watson, Thursday. Mrs. Ernest Watson, president, presided.

In discussing the background of the kitchen, Miss Rettiger suggests that one have it as near to nature in color as possible; that is, the ceiling, walls, and floors. The ceiling should be lightest because its easier on one's eyes. The paper should be of small figure or plain. If paint is used, use semi-gloss in soft colors. The paper should be washable. The woodwork should be same color, not darker or lighter. If painted, use gloss enamel.

The floor should be easy to walk upon. It can be oiled, varnished or painted, but the most practical covering is inlaid linoleum. Varnish it for it will wear longer.

The St. Patrick's color scheme was carried out in serving limeade with cup cakes topped with green and white iceing.—Reporter.

Powell Club.

The Powell Home Demonstration Club met Friday, March 4, in the home of Mrs. Tom Ferguson. Twenty-two members answered to the roll call.

The method of "How to prepare and serve egg dishes according to approved methods of preparation," was discussed. Leaflets on "Eggs at Any Meal" were given to each member.

The members of the Powell club are very proud of the pressure canner which we won by canning more products than any other club in the county. We wish to extend our many thanks to the chamber of commerce.

The club meets next time, March 18, with Mrs. Tom Kenner. All visitor are welcome.—Reporter.

STATE CLEAN-UP AND PAINT-UP WEEK BEEN PROCLAIMED

APRIL 3 TO 10 BE SPONSORED BY TWO STATE DEPARTMENTS OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, March 7.—(Spl.)—Proclaimed in Austin this week was April 3 to 10 as State Clean-up and Paint-up Week by Governor James V. Allred.

The Texas State Department of Health and the Fire Insurance Department will jointly sponsor this week in Texas.

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, states that the accumulation of winter's debris represents a distinct menace to the health of adults and particularly little children, and urges everyone to clean up their houses and yards during this week.

"It is not only good housekeeping but ordinary sanitary principles indicate the necessity of prompt removal of all waste matter in and around the neighborhood, of yards and homes, and the definite lessoning of the spread of diseases, especially those affecting infants, is vitally connected with this procedure," stated Doctor Cox.

More and More Tourists.

"Texas is annually being host to more and more tourists, and we want Texas to appear at its best for the approval of those visitors. If all property holders will repair and paint their buildings, and replace weeds with flowers and shrubs, we can make Texas the beautiful place Nature intended it to be."

Sanitation of the individual home is a splendid protection against communicable diseases.

Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They live, and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary, and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies, so that their number is an index to the sanitary conditions.

Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the anopheles or malaria mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes Aogypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in standing water, therefore, one should drain, ditch, or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wigglefails. Houses should be well screened to protect agaisin these insects. After the spring cleaning is finished it should be kept in this condition at all times.

IT'S ODD

But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

Possum Poke in Possum Lane, Poulan, Worth County, Ga.—"They come out right now" is a Georgia saying for "pronto."

That, says Michigan's former governor, Chase S. Osborn, who also rates as a geologist, is how the fishing worms are caught at the vibration of a stick.

Osborn, who lives in Georgia in winter, has given some study to this fish-worm technique. He was annoyed by a recent claim of a radio broadcaster that a Los Angeles man had "discovered" this trick.

"It is not new at all," said Osborn. "One man in Georgia got 86 in 15 minutes in a circular area about 20 feet in diameter.

"His method is to find the holes, indicated by little mounds of earth that the worms throw out. Then he drives a stake—called a 'stob' in the folk language of Georgia—about 12 or 13 inches into the ground. Next he takes a rock or rough piece of wood and rubs it against the stick or on the top.

"This shocks the earth delicately for a considerable distance. Whether the worms come out to see what it is all about, 'they come out right now'."

More than 20 years ago the same stick vibrating method was publicized in Texas. Maybe some day paleontologists will find a fossil "stob" to show the cave men made the discovery.

FORMER CORSICANA WOMAN BURIED ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Mrs Cecil (Bell) Gann, aged 36 years, formerly of Corsicana, who died at Terrell Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The rites were held from the Baptist church at Wilson Chapel in Kaufman county and were conducted by Rev. Henry Duncan and Rev. Brown, pastor of the Baptist church.

Surviving are her husband, Cecil Gann and four children, two sons, Lester Gann, Cecil Gann Jr.; two daughters, Helen Gann and Betty Ruth Gann, Kaufman; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shivers, Corsicana; one brother, Willie Shivers, Corsicana; four sisters, Mrs. Harvie Boon, Corsicana; Mrs. Ira Brazel, Montfort; Mrs. L. B. Sparkman, Corsicana; Mrs. W. D. Ainsworth, Powell and other relatives.

SUNDAY WAS GOOD DAY IN THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday was a good day in the First Christian church. Bible School attendance was 200 and auditorium was well filled for the morning church service at which time Rev. O. W. Reece preached on "The Great Salvation." In the afternoon two boys were baptized and another was received into the church by statement.

At the evening church hour the main auditorium was packed to hear Mr. Reece preach on the "Big Apple." The minister stated he had been to the Palace theatre to see the "Big Apple" dance and really could find very little fault with it, that all one needed to be able to dance it well is a number 10 shoe, a number 4 hat and a good strong heart. He further stated that the Indians were dancing the "Big Apple" a hundred years ago and was surprised that it had been so long in getting to Texas. The minister then turned to the book of Genesis and read what he termed to be the best "Big Apple" story in literature or history.

He said it is a shame that one of the finest fruits has been used in the minds of people as a symbol of sin, that the forbiddn fruit could not have been an apple because apple trees will not grow and produce fruit in the country where Eden was located. Mr. Reece then launched into a sermon on "Sin," little sin, big sin, covered sin. He showed that according to the Bible that sin always brings punishment, that this fact is also borne out by human experience.

ATTENDANCE GOOD AT ALL SERVICES FULL GOSPEL CHURCH

The attenudance was good at all services at the Full Gospel church Sunday. In the morning service the evangelist brought a stirring message using as a text Romans 8:9.

"What Must I Do to Be Saved," was the sermon subject for Sunday night. Acts 16:27-31 was read and the text was found in the 31 verse. As the jailed cried out to Paul asking how to be saved so many people today need to ask that question.

The services last week were very well attended, and everyone greatly enjoyed the good singing, the choruses, and the messages of the Sanders brothers.

You are urged to be in the service on Monday night. A special blessing is in store for all. The sermon subject for Monday night will be "What Must I Do To Be Baptised In the Holy Ghost?" Both sinner and church member are urged to hear this message.

Other services this week include prayermeeting each morning at 10 o'clock, W. M. C. Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, Children's Service Saturday p. m. at 2:30.

You are welcome to every service

DEAD AND MISSING TOLL OF CALIFORNIA FLOOD IS OVER 200

REHABILITATION WORK IS STARTED IN STRICKEN AREA ON SATURDAY

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—(AP)—The toll of dead and missing in southern California's most devasting flood soared over the 200 mark today as rehabilitation work continued in the stricken area.

The latest check showed that the bodies of 104 victims have been found, 77 of which have been identified. More than 100 are missing.

The death toll is expected to be considerably swelled. Surrounded by yellow flood waters are farm houses as yet inaccessible. The fate of the inhabitants is still a matter of guess-work.

The laborious, slow removal of thick carpets of flood silt and debris continues to swell the count of victims.

Nor will the damage caused when prolonged, torrential rains caused Southern California's customarily thin, gentle rivers to swirl over their banks be estimated for some time.

Preliminary estimates by officials, however, indicated that the havoc wrecked upon public property will exceed $50,000,000 in the four counties of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange.

No guess has as yet been hazarded as to the damage done to homes and crops.

The region emerged painfully from its inundation and citizens worked feverishly to throw off the storm paralysis. In some sections, the threat of further death and disaster still impended.

Seek to Control River.

At Claremont, an army of 300 worked to keep the rebellious San Antonio river from disregarding its confines and sweeping through the town.

Airplanes dropped food to persons marooned in the Sierra Madre mountains.

Rescue workers who emerged from the Camp Baldy region brought out dramatic stories of how a huge wall of water, armed with boulders, roared down the slopes, sweeping all before it.

It was reported that 500 mountain cabins were destroyed. So was a hotel at Camp Curry and a new tavern. Many were marooned in this sector, but only one death was reported, that of a woman. A man was missing.

The worst damage was inflicted and the most fatalities recorded along the Santa Ana river which runs out of the Sierra Madre mountains above San Bernardino and flows to the Pacific through rich citrus lands.

Many thousands of persons were made homeless in this region. Muddied flood waters still lay in wide stretches over the farm land.

Rehabilitation Under Way

SHREVEPORT, La., March 5.—(AP)—Rehabilitation of nearly 300 families was under way today in Red River and Grant parishes as backwaters from Red river receded near Coushatta and were at a standstill near Colfax.

NEW FLOOD THREAT.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 5.—(AP)—Reports of a new low pressure area forming off the Pacific coast cast the shadow of another storm threat on devastated Southern California today as it counted its death toll in the hundreds and its flood damage at more than fifty million dollars.

L. H. Daingerfield, government meteorologist, warned that the atmospheric condition might bring additional rain. He forecast increased cloudiness tonight and unsettled conditions Sunday.

YOUTHFUL SLAYER OF M'KINNEY OFFICER IN GREENVILLE JAIL

GREENVILLE, March 5.—(AP)—J. W. Richman, 20-year-old slayer of a McKinney motorcycle patrolman, was back in Hunt county jail here today.

Last night he was taken out of jail for a few hours. Sheriff Frank Wolfe said the admitted slayer of Marion Taylor, the McKinney patrolman, visited Dallas with officers. Dallas authorities said they had not seen the prisoner nor the Hunt county officers.

It was understood here that Rickman was taken to Dallas to be viewed by Henry Jackson, taxicab driver, who was kidnaped and forced to drive until Rickman fired six bullets into Taylor's body when the officer halted the Dallas taxicab.

A pistol had been recovered from a gravel pit near Melissa, Collin county, where Rickman told officers he flung the death weapon after he started walking from the scene of the crime.

The slaying complaint had been filed at McKinney. In Dallas Rickman was charged with the holdup of the taxicab driver. Here five complaints, two alleging robbery and three automobile theft had been prepared.

Officers Attacked Arresting Two Men

Two men were arrested shortly after noon Friday near Purdon by Deputy Sheriffs Jack Floyd, Allen Calloway and Alton B. Bradley and were placed in the county jail.

The men are alleged to have resisted and attacked the officers when they attempted to execute a writ of sequestration to evict the man and his belongings from a residence.

Complaints are slated to be filed during the afternoon against the two men by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse, it was stated.

Automobile Of Ancient Model Is On Display

The first Oldsmobile, one of the first automobiles of any kind, to navigate in Navarro county, has been "retrieved" by the Jefferson Motor Co., and mechanics are planning to restore missing parts of the engine to put the antique into operation again.

The car is among the first 30,000 built by the Oldsmobile company, and is of the vintage of 1903. It was the property of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Booth, and was recently found in the garage of the Booth homestead on West Sixth avenue. It has been hauled to the Jefferson Motor Co., where mechanics are preparing to restore the missing parts, and where it is causing quite a bit of attention. Joe Jefferson said the factory still has a stock of parts for it, and they will be ordered and installed in the near future.

The car is a two-seater, with a "one-lung" motor located under the seats. The gasoline and water tanks are located under the hood, the motor was started from a crank on the righthand side, and power of the motor is conveyed to the back wheels through a heavy fly-wheel and chain and sprocket drive.

AIRPLANE CRASH AT CORPUS CHRISTI FATAL TO THREE

TWO DALLAS OIL MEN AND PILOT DEAD; ANOTHER MAN INJURED

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 5.—(AP)—The crash of a plane bearing a party of oil men on a pleasure jaunt left three persons dead, including a millionaire Dallas sportsman, and one seriously injured today.

Dudley Golding, an independent operator who ran a small stake into millions of dollars, was among the dead. Others were A. F. (Tex) Bowden. Dallas oil man and income tax specialist, and Pilot P. F. (Pop) Hotchkiss of Fort Worth.

W. M. Irish III, vice president of the Atlantic Crude Oil Purchasing Corporation, was in a hospital here with a back injury and numerous lacerations. He wes expected to recover.

Oil, which had brought them fortune, may have brought death. C. R. Boggs, who saw the crash last night advanced the theory that flares in an oil field may have prevented the pilot from seeing a highline which the ship struck. Boggs said he saw the plane "coming down in a long slant," the motor stopped, and one wheel struck the highline bordering a highway where Hotchkiss apparently intended to land. The highway, No. 9, runs through the oil field, about eight miles west of the city.

Pilot Killed Instantly.

Hotchkiss died immediately after he had been removed from the plane which had toppled over on its back after the motor had torn loose and burrowed into the ground. Golding and Bowden died within an hour.

The group left Dallas early in the afternoon to see a new tanker dock here. Golding frequently came to the coastal area. He and his associates had Matagorda Island under lease from the state and had erected a clubhouse there. Golding formerly was one of the outstanding amateur golfers of the state.

The 40-year-old Golding got his start in the oil industry as a field worker at Wichita Falls in 1918. When the East Texas field came in Golding and C. W. Murchison formed a partnership, starting with $167. He became president of the American Liberty Oil company, with holdings in the East Texas field and in other sections of East and Southeast Texas. He also was president of the American Liberty Pipeline Company, with a vast network of lines over East Texas and into Louisiana.

He was a partner in the organization of Toddie Wynne, trustee, and also maintained his partnership with Murchison.

Goldings' widow survives.

Bowden moved from Wichita Walls to Dallas about six years ago. He was vice president of the Lucey Petroleum Company. He is survived by his widow and two children, Tommy 3, and Robert, 1.

Hotchkiss, formerly a pilot for Bowen Aidlines hap operated a plane agency in Fort Worth and had made charter flights. He is survived by his widow, his mother and his sister.

Funeral Plans Not Made

DALLAS, March 5.—(AP)—Funeral arrangements had not been made today for A. F. Bowden, Dallas oil operator and sportsman killed with two others last night in a plane crash near Corpus Christi. The body was to arrive Sunday.

Services for Dudley Golding, well known independent oil operator also a crash victim, probably will be held in Houston tomorrow, his office here said.

TWO STUDENTS OF STATE HOME SCHOOL BITTEN BY DOG

Two boys, students at the State Home, were bitten by what is thought to be a mad dog Saturday morning. They were placed in the hospital at the Home for immediate treatment and observation until a report can be secured from Austin where the dog's head was sent after being killed.

The dog attacked several dogs on the campus of the Home and attempted to bite some cattle but was driven off. The dog did bite some cattle on the roadside near the Home and some other dogs in that section before it was killed.

All dogs at the Home have been penned and will be carefully watched until the report is received from Austin.

GOVERNOR CLAIMS ATTORNEY GENERAL MERE WISECRACKER

M'CRAW RETALIATES WITH DIG AT ALLRED FOR RECENT PROBE CONNECTIONS

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP)—The quarrel between James V. Allred and William McCraw, possible opponents in the impending Governor's race, blazed again today.

Governor Allred accused Attrney General McCraw of attempting to gain a following solely through wisecracks. He said he awaited with interest "one serious statement from the attorney general of any principle for which he stands."

McCraw's brief but scorching reply was: "I am glad he (Allred) now is in the open doing his own talking instead of operating through his 'Charlie McCarthys,' Hill and Holbrook (Senators Joe L. Hill of Hendersoon and T. J. Holbrook of Galveston.)"

Allred asserted in a press statement that "the attorney general says he will run for governor on his record and his own merits," then inquired, "What are they? Wisecracks? Grandstand play? Tom Clark? Carl Estes? Changed marble machine opinions? Compromised lawsuits?

"The people want to know. They like a good show, all right, and the attorney general staged one (referring to McCraw's skirmish with the senate investigating committee); but the people are not interested in electing a comic opera governor. They are interested in what a man has done and what he stands for."

Recalls Jimmy Walker.

The governor sought to compare McCraw's wisecracking to that of James J. Walker, former mayor of New York.

"Walker's wisecracks did not satisfy President Roosevelt, who then was governor of New York," Allred stated. "The president said: 'See here, Walker, I don't want flippancies and witticisms. I want the facts.'

"In the serious matter of choosing a governor, the people of Texas are like President Roosevelt."

Friends of McCraw said he announced in a speech at Somerville last night that one of the chief planks in his platform would be strict economy in government.

'Texas is rotten ripe for a change in the administration of its governmental affairs," the attorney general said in that talk. "The extravagance of the spoils system has resulted in mounting costs to the extent that administration has taken a substantial part of what should go for the general good.

"The next governor should ride booted and spurred through the state house under the banner of governmental economy."

WORK REMODELING WOMEN'S CLUBHOUSE STARTED THIS WEEK

Work was started this week by A. E. Haslam, general contractor, on leveling up and remodeling the Harris Kinsloe residence at 618 West Third avenue, which will be occupied in about 30 days as the Kinsloe Clubhouse, for use by Corsicana and Navarro county women's clubs.

The house was being leveled this week and work on the remodeling proper is scheduled to begin next week. A partition is being removed from two rooms, and large glass doors will be put into a third to make the auditorium, which will have a raised stage at one end. Behind the auditorium, a bath room will be converted into an attractive powder room, and behind that another room will be turned into a vestibule, with a door opening on the west side of the house under a porte cochere. The powder room will have a large mirrored door.

The vestibule will open into an areaway with a stairway for the upstairs portion of the house, and also into the kitchen, which will be left almost intact. Two large pantries in the kitchen will be converted into a single pantry, with a door leading out to a terrace on the east side of the house, and another portion of the pantry will have a sink, and copious shelves.

A concrete terrace, 15 by 22 feet, is to be built on the east side of the house, from which entrance will be gained from the house by a door opening from the service pantry. The large front porch will be left as it is, except it will be leveled and lowered a slight amount.

Two large barns behind and on the west side of the house are to be razed and a one-story, three-car garage will replace the present buildings.

One large room room upstairs will be made over into a clubroom and the other upstairs rooms will be refinished and repapered to provide living accommodations for the hostess.

Most of the rooms downstairs have oak floors, and all the floors will be refinished, the interior repainted and repapered.

CORSICANA INVITED HAVE PART PARADE TEXAS U ROUND-UP

AUSTIN, March 5.—(Spl.)—Twenty-six Texas towns and more than ten counties have been invited to enter floats in the parade of the ninth annual round-up at the University of Texas April 8. The invitations have been extended to clubs of students on the campus representing these towns and counties.

Five bands, and floats, representing fraternities, sororities, dormitories and honorary associations will compete in the parade for five prizes offered for the most comical, the most beautiful, the most educational, the outstanding unique, and the best all-round floats.

Towns represented by clubs on the University campus which have been invited to participate are: Abilene, Austin, Beaumont, Cleburne, Conroe, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Hillsboro, Houston, Midland, Odessa, Port Arthur, Palestine, Plainview, San Antonio, Baytown, Goose Creek, Pelly, Victoria, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

County and sectional groups of students invited to participate are: The Border Club, representing Texas cities on the Mexican border; the Valley Club, representing cities of the Rio Grande Valley; the Panhandle Club, and the following counties: DeWitt, Falls, Gregg, Henderson, Hidalgo, Hill, Milam, Ruck, Shelby and Van Zandt.

MOUNTING OPPOSITION CLAIMED IN COTTON BELT FOR SECRETARY WALLACE'S MARKET QUOTA PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 5.—(AP)—Reports of mounting opposition in the cotton belt to Secretary Wallace's proposal to apply marketing quotas to the 1938 cotton crop aroused concern a the agriculture department today.

The proposal will be submitted to more than two million cotton growers in 19 states at a referendum March 12. To become effective, it must be approved by two-third of the farmers voting.

The department ordered one of its top-ranking officials—L. W. Duggan, director of the southern division of the agricultural adjustment administration — to Texas for a series of speeches next week. Duggan was to stress the advantages which the department says cotton growers would derive from the quota system.

Under Wallace's proposal, the sales of cotton would be limited to about 11,000,000 bales. Growers selling more than their marketing quota would be subject to a penalty tax of two cents a pound and loss of subsidy payments.

Wallace estimated that the surplus cotton on hand when growers start gathering their new crop would be at least 12,000,000 bales—sufficient, the officials said, to supply normal needs for a whole year.

Duggan said opposition to the quota appeared strongest in Texas and Oklahoma, where one of the factors was fear that foreign markets might be lost.

Duggan said the Texas Agricultural association had arranged his speaking itinerary thus: Waco, Tuesday; Dallas, Wednesday; Houston, Thursday; Lubbock, Friday.

PUBLIC'S FLESH CREEPING AT SPY SCARES BUT MOST NATIONS KEEP CORPS ACTIVE ALL TIME

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

NEW YORK, March 5.—(AP)—The pickwickian fat boy who is making the public flesh creep at the moment seems to be the spy.

What with the mysterious American spy-ring, the grim treason trial of Moscow with its allegations of British and German plots against the Soviet regime, and spies' heads popping up and off all over Europe, there are enough thrills and chills to satisfy the most eager arm-chair seeker after red-blood adventure.

As a matter of fact there doesn't have to be an "R" in the month to make spies in season. They always are with us, and the United States has its quota along with foreign countries.

Naturally, when the hounds of war begin to bay at the moon, the spies start to scurry about. There is much more activity now than in peaceful times. Still, even in the dull dog-days there are enough professional "nosy Parkers" in America to make a good-sized army.

All nations employ agents to try to ferret out the secrets of other countries. Yes, this includes our own United States, or at least it has in the past.

I was well acquainted with one American secret agent abroad—a brilliant and very charming woman. She got spotted while operating in an European country and all but lost her life.

She escaped, but her usefulness to Washington was ended. She was a reserved, mild-mannered little lady, as lively and fragile as a primrose—a very deceptive make-up, for she coupled cleverness with the fighting heart of a tigress.

The employment of spies probably strikes the average person as being unethical, but universal custom condones it. The real sin is on the secret agent's on head, when he gets caught. And he is the one who has to "pay," very often with his life.

The profession of spying is one of the most dangerous there is. Hunting lions in the jungle is no more hazardous to life. The firing squad and the head-man's ax take their regular toll in Europe and the Orient. The prisons get a lot. I encountered some ex-spies eating their hearts out on the notorious Devil's Island when I visited there a couple of years ago.

When an agent is caught he generally has to face the music alone, for is government obviously is almost never in position to acknowledge him or even to assist him indirectly. It is the code of the secret agent to take his rap with sealed lips.

Why should nations need to spy on others In these days when sabres are rattling like castanets it is a matter of national security for many countries. For the militaristic powers, it is essential that they know the strength of their opposition. To give a blunt example, England couldn't afford not to know the fighting strength and plans of Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini, and by the same token the dictators would be foolish not to have agents in Britainn and France, among other nations.

G. H. BROWN NAMED CHAIRMAN COMMITTEE FOR TRAINING CAMPS

FORT SAM HOUSTON, March 5.—(Spl.)—G. H. Brown of Corsicana has accepted the chairmanship of the Navarro county committee to assist local youths to qualify for the Citizen's Military Training Camps to be held during the summer, it was announced yesterday at Eighth Corps Area headquarters, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The camps run for thirty days during July. No obligation for future military service of any kind is incurred by those beginning this training. The government provides without charge transportation to camp and return, wholesome food, uniforms, laundry service, athletic equipment, and medical attention.

It was announced that Colonel William B. Tuttle, of San Antonio, Texas, was appointed Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War for the 8th Corps Area for the CMTC. This office was made vacant by the death of the late Colonel Wilson S. Hendrick of San Antonio.

Colonel Ralph H. Durkee of San Antonio is the State Aide to the Secretary of War for Texas.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. J. JACOBS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. J. Jacobs, age 70 years, died at her home on West Second avenue early Friday morning and funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon from the residence. The rites will be conducted by Rabbi Harry Shapiro of Agudas Achim synagogue. Burial will be in the Hebrew cemetery.

Mrs. Jacobs had been a resident of Corsicana for 40 years.

Surviving are her husband, four sons, Sol Jacobs, Conroe; A. Jacobs, Waco; Julius Jacobs, Corsicana; Harry Jacobs, Corsicana; two daughters, Mrs. Rose Leichtman, Gladewater; Mrs. Al Eron, Longview; two sisters, and other relatives.

EXPECT PRESIDENT WILL ACT SOON IN DIRECTORS' FEUD

WASHINGTON, March 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, informed officials predicted today, will act soon to end the feud between directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority regardless of any projected congressional investigation.

Mr. Roosevelt was represented as determined that internal dissension should not be allowed to imperil the success of TVA, designed as a broad experiment of his power and social programs.

The president evidenced that he was following the situation closely when he made public yesterday the suggestion of Director David Lilienthal and Vice Chairman Harcourt A. Morgan that Chairman Arthur E. Morgan retire.

Two days earlier, Chairman Morhad sharply criticized his colleagues and, in effect, had said that the TVA could get along better without them.

He also demanded a sweeping congressional investigation of the agency. Several proposals for such an investigation have been made.

While Chairman Morgan said the differences went far deeper, the outward manifestations of the dispute have been largely over power. In this, the clash has been principally between Chairman Morgan and Lilienthal.

Dr. H. A. McGan, whose forte is agriculture, has not taken the initiative on this question, but has sided with Lilienthal.

THREE MEN DEAD, THREE WOUNDED IN JUAREZ GUN BATTLE

EL PASO, March 4.—(AP)—Three men were killed and three were wounded in a gun battle in Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from here, early today.

The dead were Pedro Ibarra, 35 Mexican federal agent; Secundio Aldaz, 28, Juarez city policeman, and John Steward, 31 El Paso negro.

Wounded were Luis Aparicio, 40 Juarez assistant chief of police who was shot through the legs; Xadier Angeles, 30, Juarez City policeman, wounded in the legs, and Leon Bostic 40, El Paso, negro shot through the head.

Aparicio and Angeles are in an El Paso hospital, where doctors said they would recover. Bostic was in a Juarez hospital in a serious condition.

Thomas Hardley, 28, El Paso negro who was not wounded, was held by Juarez officials as a witness.

Officers said the three negroes crossed the Stanton Street bridge today at 3 a. m. Their car was halted by a city policeman who questioned them on what they were doing.

During the questioning, Aldaz, Ibarra, Aparicia and Angeles gathered at the car.

"An argument arose as to whether we should be taken to jail or turned loose," Hardley said, "All at once Ibarra and Aldaz started shooting at each other.

"The next thing, there were dead and wounded all over the street."

The U. S. Consul here began an investigation and immediately reported to the United States embassy in Washington. An investigation also was started by Constantino Suarez, federal prosecutor of Juarez.

Hardley said he and his companions went to Juarez "to have a good time."

Authority between city and federal officers was reported to be the underlying cause of the battle. There have been numerous clashes in recent months.

PRESIDENT SAYS HIS OBJECTIVES REMAIN UNCHANGED

SHIP OF STATE ON SAME COURSE AFTER FIVE YEARS IN WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt reaffirmed today the objectives of his administration, emphasizing the need for increasing purchasing power.

Discussing at his press conference the five years of his administration which ended today, the President authorized one direct quotation.

"The old ship of state is still on its same course," he said.

He declared he hoped for wage and hour legislation at this session but said it might not be possible to achieve before adjournment.

He declared the administration was not relenting in its fight to end special privilege, a fight which he declared the country, by and large, favors.

He said one of the principal accomplishments of his five years had been to bring about thinking on the part of people generally in terms of the rounded problems of government rather than in terms of their limited particular problems.

Mr. Roosevelt said there was a tendency on the part of many to confuse policies and objectives with methods.

He said one of the objectives was increased purchasing power.

Telling a story to illustrate the difference between the aim and the ways taken to achieve it, the President said he had asked many business friends recently what they thought should be done about the sharecropper problem.

They first replied, he asserted, that they did not know what he meant by the sharecropper problem, that they then did not know what could be done about it but that when he pointed out 15 to 20 millions Americans in the sharecropper and tenant farmer category, have no purchasing power to buy the things the business men make for sale in country stores they agreed that a solution to the problem would help raise purchasing power.

Pressure Groups.

Mr. Roosevelt said that as a result of thinking in terms of the rounded problems of government he hoped it would be possible to get away from pressure groups which come to Washington with special demands.

Of the general accomplishments of his administration, Mr. Roosevelt said there had been an enormous degree of achievement toward his objectives. Some things, he added, had failed.

He advanced the belief that control of crop surpluses would hold up the purchasing power of 50,000,000 people and said there was a growing realization on the part of industrialists with whom he has talked that this would be beneficial to them as well as to farm groups.

On wages and hours the Chief Executive said it still was necessary to put a floor under wages and a ceiling over hours.

Citing the case of finance as an instance of confusion between methods and objectives, Mr. Roosevelt said he was discussing the fiscal policy of the government yesterday, including such things as foreign exchange, the price level, and public finance.

In April of last year, he said, he was afreid the objective of stabilization was threatened by inflation and therefore he put the helm far to starboard.

Continuing the nautical terminology, the President said that when the wind shifted last autumn and deflation threatened he shifted the helm far aport to keep the ship on its course.

ROBERT P. SCRIPPS, HEAD PAPER CHAIN, DIES ABOARD YACHT

BODY SCHEDULED ARRIVE IN LOS ANGELES SATURDAY; HAD BEEN ILL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—(AP)—Robert P. Scripps, 42, principal stockholder in the Scripps-Howard national newspaper chain, died aboard his yacht off lower California, it was learned here early today.

The publishing executive, who began his newspaper career at the age of 16, died while the yacht, the Novia Del Mar, was anchored off Santa Margarita Island, lower California.

Coast guard headquarters here was informed that Scripps' body was transferred last Wednesday evening to the Panama Pacific liner Pennsylvania, due in Los Angeles Saturday. The time of his death was not contained in a message from the liner.

Scripps was stricken seriously ill while on a trip to Hawaii last summer. Death resulted from an internal hemorrhage.

Confirmation of the death was given in New York City by William W. Hawkins, chairman of the board of Scripps-Howard.

Scripps was the son of the late E. W. Scripps, founder of the newspaper chain which is represented by dailies in many large cities of the United States. He leaves his widow and six children.

Scripps was born in San Diego and at 16 began his newspaper career as a reporter and correspondent.

A graduate of Pomona College (Calif.), Scripps became editorial director of the Scripps-Howard and Scripps-McRae newspapers in 1917.

Also in 1917, Scripps married Margaret Lou Culbertson, who survives him together with their children, Robert Paine, Jr., Charles Edward, Margaret, Ellen, Mackey Elizabeth, Samuel Holtsinger, and Edward Wyllis, III.

Director Several Units.

He was president and treasurer of the E. W. Scripps company; and a director of the Newspaper Enterprise Association Service, the Newspaper Information Service, and of the United Press Associations. He also was a trustee of Miami University.

Scripps maintained homes in West Chester, Ohio, and at Miramar, San Diego county, Calif.

Control of the Scripps-Howard newspapers is vested in a trust founded by Scripps' father, it was explained today at the general offices of the chain in New York.

During his lifetime, Robert P. Scripps was the sole trustee and as such the controlling stockholder. The trust provided that in the event of his death, the control shall be vested in three trustees.

They are: Roy W. Howard, chairman of the executive committee of all Scripps-Howard corporations; William W. Hawkins, chairman of the board and George B. Parker, editor-in-chief of the newspaper chain. Howard is the senior trustee.

Twenty-four newspapers constitute the Scripps-Howard chain. They include:

New York World-Telegram, Washington News, Oklahoma City News, Houston Press, Fort Worth Press El Paso Herald-Post and Albuquerque State Tribune.

Senator Norris Been In Senate 25 Years Today

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(AP)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.) reviewing his 25 years in the senate as "the cream of my life," declared today that solution of unemployment was the most urgent problem before the country.

The 76-year-old, gray haired Nebraskan became a senator March 4, 1913. Sunk deeply in an easy chair in the President's room off the senate chamber, he drew slowly on a stub of a cigar and he discussed what has happened since then.

"I have seen a great many improvements," he said. "There have been a lot more I would liked to have seen. But we are improving and getting better all the time and on the whole going forward."

He paused for a moment before continuing:

"There are times when it appears that we can't see our way out. That's the situation in which I find myself right now. But I hope, and I have the supreme belief that there is a brighter day ahead."

"What still needs to be done most of all?" he was asked.

"Ah, that's plain," he said quickly. "We simply must solve the unemployment problem and there is only one solution: 'We must limit the hours of labor whether we like it or not."

PLOT TO SEIZE KREMLIN AND KILL STALIN DESCRIBED

SOVIET BLOOD PURGE DEFENDANT BARES PLANS THAT FAILED IN 1937

MOSCOW, March 4.—(AP)—A plot to seize the Kremlin and kill Joseph Stalin and other Soviet leaders in May, 1937, with Marshal Mikhail N. Tukachevsky as leader, was described today by one of the 21 defendants in Moscow's great blood purge trial.

Marshal Tukachevsky was one of eight leaders of the Red army court martialed and executed as traitors on June 13, shortly after the alleged plot was to have been carried out.

O. P Rosenholtz, former commissary of foreign trade and one of 21 fallen Russians on trial accused of treason and murder, told of the intrigue during the trial's third day.

Unsuccessful attempts to invoke British aid to separate middle Asia from the Soviet Union through armed revolt were described by Faysulla Khodjaleff, one of 21 defendants.

Khodjaleff, confessed leader of a separatist movement, once was president of the Uzbek Soviet republic in Central Asia and its a nephew of the last Emir of Bokhara.

He testified that Uzbek nationalists trained leaders for insurrection by sending young boys to Germany and Turkey to be educated.

His testimony followed confessions of intrigue with the Polish general staff and a plot to assassinate the Soviet Union's war commissar, all broadening the pattern of the admitted conspiracies of the 21 accused as traitors, murderers and spies against the U.S.S.R.

Khodjaleff said the middle Asian nationalists resented Joseph Stalin's stand against self-sufficiency for Uzbekistan. He said he and Akmal Ikramoff, former political boss of the Uzbek Republic and also a defendant, wanted to reduce the growing of cotton its chief product, and to emphasize industry and grain production in the first five year plan.

Today's first witness, V. F. Sharangovich, former secretary of the Polish communist party, told the court of contacts between the Polish army general staff and a "national fascist" group across the polish border in White Russia.

Sharangovich implicated as leaders of the organization a group which included: A. V. Cherviakoff, White Russia president who committed suicide when a number of his colleagues were arrested; M. Goloded, White Russia chairman of Peoples' commissars, and Nicolai Antipoff, former vice-president of the Council of Peoples' Commissars.

The group conferred frequently with Nikolai Bucharin, former government newspaper editor also on trial, and Gregory I. Piatikoff, who was executed after the January, 1937, trials, Sharangovich declared.

In 1932, he said, the group was ordered by Bucharin to maintain closer contact with the Polish military chieftains.

"Our (treasonable) organization," he went on, "was closely tied with the Polish general staff."

Rudjutak, Antipoff and Vareikis were mentioned as participants in a plot for a "palace revolution" at the Kremlin, Yakovleff was said to have approved a plan to form a nationalist-socialist party in the Ukraine. Barbara Yakovleva was implicated in what was described as a scheme to kill Lenin in 1918.

Thus far, key figures among the defendants have corroborated each other's testimony. The single hitch on the first day when Nicholas N. Krestinsky, former ambassador to Berlin, repudiated his pre-trial confession was smoothed over.

Krestinsky not only disavowed his claim of innocence for a plea of guilty to "all the charges preferred against me," but elaborated on his position in the asserted plot.

SENATE COMMITTEE PROBE OF M'DONALD AND M'CRAW CLOSED

INVESTIGATION WAS ENDED ABRUPTLY AS HOLBROOK AND HILL WALKED OUT

AUSTIN, March 4.—(AP)—A senate committee's inquiry into affairs of Attorney General William McCraw and Land Commissioner William H. McDonald was asleep today, perhaps until the political campaigning this summer is over.

It ended abruptly yesterday when Chairman T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and Joe L. Hill of Henderson strode from the hearing room, breaking a quorum.

They were displeased by a deadlock on Hill's motion to issue new subpoenas for bank accounts of McCraw, his former law partner, Tom C. Clark, and the old Dallas law firm of McCraw and Clark.

Senators Albert Stone of Brenham and Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland opposed Hill's motion and absence of R. A. Weinert of Seguin, the fifth member, prevented a decision.

Previously, however, Weinert had expressed the opinion the investigators should drop their activities until the political campaigns ended.

Collie, secretary of the group, announced its adjournment subject to call but Holbrook later declared he, at this time, saw no reason for continuing.

"A majority of members seems to have decided against subpoenaing the records of public officials and I see no reason in going ahead," he said.

The inquiry had switched back and forth between a study of McDonald's land leasing policies and other affairs and those of McCraw.

Since the opening of a session at Dallas last week the McCraw-Clark angle had overshadowed the land officer's investigation.

Internal dissension became evident when Holbrook and Hill steered the study into the McCraw-Clark channel.

To a statement by Weinert the public was of the opinion the committee had become a political body, Holbrook asserted the public was entitled to know whether anyone had made large amounts of money through friendship with McCraw or any other official.

DECALOG OF TOLERANCE

If there is one thing this uneasy world needs today more than another, it is tolerance for people unlike ourselves. That would make the world livable. And if to such a passive quality we can add the positive virtue of good will, we have a start toward the Golden Age.

A fine contribution along this line is made by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, which proposes these ten resolutions:

1. I will honor all men and women regardless of their race or religion.
2. I will protect and defend my neighbor and my neighbor's children against the ravages of racial or religious bigotry.
3. I will exemplify in my life the spirit of good will and understanding.
4. I will challenge the philosophy of racial superiority by whomsoever that philosophy may be proclaimed, be these persons kings, emperors, dictators, or demagogues.
5. I will refuse to join or be identified with any organization that has for its purpose the spreading of anti-Semitism, anto-Catholicism or anti-Protestantism.
6. I will do more than live and let live; I will live and help live.
7. I will protest against every manifestation of racial or religious prejudice.
8. I will, until my dying day, establish comradeship with all those who seek to exalt the spirit of love and reconciliation throughout the world.
9. I will not be misled by the lying propaganda of those who seek to set race against race or nation against nation.
10. I will be all things to all men; to the Jew I will be a Jew; to the Christian, a Christian; nor will I be divorced from this purpose by threats of personal violence or social ostracism; so help me God.

A LEGISLATOR'S JOB

One of the columnists tells a story—said to be true—of two congressmen meeting in an elevator in Washington. They spoke of a tax bill which had been drafted by one of them. On parting, the other said to the bill's author:

"Well, I'll vote for your bill, because I know you drew it, and it's a good bill, but I don't promise to read it."

Any constituent back home has a right to feel sore about that. After all, what is a congressman's job? Why is he elected? What is he paid for?

A variety of answers may be given, some of them cynical. He may be elected for any number of reasons other than actual qualification as a legislator. In theory, however, he is elected because he is competent to help make the laws and promote the welfare of his country. In practice, he ought to decide about a bill by using his intelligence, by studying it, by understanding its purpose and implications. He should neither oppose nor support it merely because a prominent colleague does one or the other.

Hitler insists on the right of Germans to "general, human, political and ideological freedom." That is, with their right to do what Hitler tells them about those things.

If we understand Hitler correctly, when Germans emigrate to another country it's the Fatherland's duty to annex that country.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

A FAMILY JOKE

She rigged herself up in a tattered old shawl
And tin cup in hand she sat down in the hall.
She whimpered at me from the foot of the stair,
"Kind sir, will you help me? I've nothing to wear."

I was onto her dodge just as soon as she spoke.
And decided of course, to go on with her joke.
"Poor woman," said I. "Life at times is unfair.
Who has forced you to beg here for something to wear?"

"It's my husband," said she, in a pitiful way.
"If I plead for a bonnet with ribbons of blue,
It is always the same—his insurance is due."
She rattled the cup and she shifted her leg,
Saying: "If you've a wife never force her to beg!
Kind sir, will you buy me a new dress today?"
"I'm sorry," said I, "but I've taxes to pay."

EXPANDING GERMANY

There was logic, after all, in the old Austro-Hungarian empire of the Hapsburgs which began many centuries ago and was ended by the World War. As a statesman once said, "If that empire did not exist, it would have been necessary to invent it."

It was torn apart in the Versailles conference, and with good intentions the various Central European nations were made, so far as possible, independent states. But the boundaries could not be drawn cleanly. The racial groups — Germans, Czechs, Hungarians, Roumanians, and so on—were much interwoven and the political and economic problems were too complicated.

Now the new boundaries are cracking. Nazi Germany has started absorbing its lost Germans across the Austrian and Czechoslovak borders, and the ferment spreads. It begins to look as if there may be a general reshuffling again. In the end, if Hitler's policy and luck continue, we might see nearly all of those little states rounded up again, in a greater Germany, reaching from the North Sea to the Black Sea and from the Baltic to the Adriatic.

That would be a pity for the nationalists and their racial satisfaction. Instead of the rather easy rule of Francis Joseph, they would have the iron hand of Hitler or some Prussian successor. And they might become parts of a ruthless military empire threatening the few fringes of freedom left in Europe.

WAR CHICKENS

Japanese chickens are coming home to roost. On Feb. 19 there was a big riot in Parliament at Tokyo, in which the speaker of the House was beaten and spokesmen for the government party headed by Prince Konoye were driven from the floor. On the following day the opposition continued, with leaders of the major parties blocking discussion of the general mobilization bill. There was bocing, shouting and fist-fighting.

These demonstrations are explained as intended to stop the Fascist regime which Konoye is accused of trying to establish. They were preceded by the invasion of the headquarters of the two leading political parties by alleged henchmen of the premier.

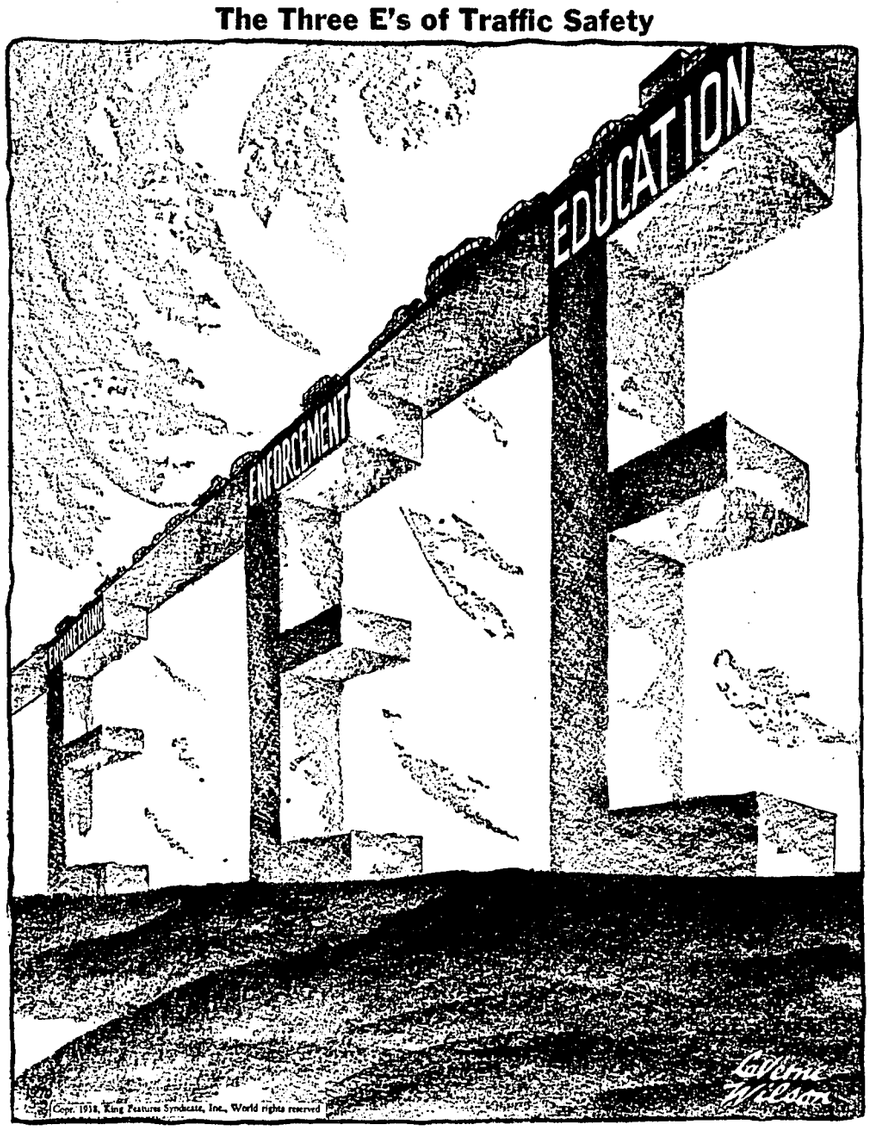

It is plain that the strong popular groups denied a right to participate in the government, in spite of repeated victories at the polls, are getting their courage up again. They are "fed up," as the English would say, with the conduct of the minority group which swept them into war against China.

They have probably been moved by the fact that the Chinese drive has not gone according to schedule. The war turns out to be longer, harder, more ambitious and more expensive than the public was led to expect. Casualties have risen above 260,000, of which one-third are fatal. The daily arrival of several hundred dead soldiers for burial is depressing. It grows harder to raise money, with the widening boycott against Japanese goods.

There may still be hope for China.

The worst thing about that man Hitler is that he does what he says and gets what he goes after.

The Three E's of Traffic Safety

GOOD WILL BOMBERS

There has just been a presidential inauguration in Argentina. Dr. Roberto M. Ortiz became the twenty-first constitutional President of the Argentine Republic on Feb. 20. It was to attend this ceremony that the six U. S. Army bombers made their spectacular flight to Buenos Aires, breaking records and carrying a letter of good wishes from President Roosevelt to President Ortiz.

A correspondent for the New York Times, in his report of the event, wrote these words:

"Nothing that the United States has done in Latin America, with the possible exception of President Roosevelt's visit a year ago, has ever aroused such an enthusiastic response on the part of the Argentine people. The newspapers have published the most laudatory editorials extending a hearty welcome to the American flyers and expressing their appreciation of the good will of the government that sent them."

This cordiality is the more notable since the Argentine people were so indifferent to the earlier flight of Bruno Mussolini to South Amrica that he and his companions canceled their plan to attend the Ortiz inauguration.

It is interesting to learn that German and Italian propaganda in Argentina has overshot its mark and has begun to defeat its own ends. The people have become resentful of the high-pressure work done on them by the anti-democracies. Genuine good will, suitably expressed, is more effective in winning friends.

Bravely Chancellor Schuschnigg says: "What we Austrians want cannot and must not be designated by political concepts of Red, Black, Browr and Green, and Right and Left." But Austria's direction and color style are being set in Berlin, not Vienna.

The astronomers say that, with the new telescope they're setting up at Mount Palomar, California, they can see 6,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles. All right—all right! But can they see the end of the depression?

Japanese athletes in training for the Olympic Games to be held in Tokyo in 1940 must expect their country's private war to be finished by then, and the World War not yet under way.

We do hope those Bolshevik scientists rescued from their ice cake don't have to stand trial now for not staying where they were put.

Kerens Music Club Met Wednesday In A. S. Pritchard Home

KERENS, March 4.—(Spl.)—The Kerens Music club met in the home of Mrs. A. S. Pritchard with Mrs. T. S. Daniel, Sr., cohostess, Wednesday afternoon for a most interesting program, which was divided into two parts. Mrs. Amma Bain in charge of division No. 1, presented Miss Dorothy Bess Atkins, guest artist, who is a member of the Kerens school faculty, and also an accomplished pianist. She played "Murmuring Zephyrs."

Mrs. Hugh Barlow, gave "The Great Lovers," by Rupert Brook.

Mrs. M. O. Cheek and Miss Dorothy Holt played a violin duet, accompanied by Mrs. H. G. Smith.

Their selection was "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

Mrs. E. H. Gray, leader of the second part, then anounced a vocal selection by Mrs. Roland Mays, and a violin and piano number by Mrs. M. O. Cheek and Mrs. A. S. Pritchard, and a poem by Mrs. R. H. Logan, "Invictus."

Guests other than club members were Mesdames Mike Kamen, P. H. Brister, J. C. Blair and Misses Atkins, Pauline Dahnke, Jean Gullahorn and Mrs. J. C. Beck.

KERENS, March 4.—(Spl.)—The Fidelis class of the Baptist Sunday school held their monthly social meeting at the home of Mrs. G. H. Wilemon with Mrs. Wilemon and Mrs. Fred Hulan hostesses.

Mrs. C. W. White led an unusually interesting devotional taking various scriptures to illustrate the asking and answering of questions, bearing out the subject announced by Mrs. Grant Westbrook, "Why."

After further presuring the "Why" in a clever way, Pat Murphrey, guest speaker, was introducted, and gave an inspiring talk on attendance."

A salad plate was served to 15 members and Mr and Mrs. Murphrey.

KERENS, March 4.—(Spl.)—Mesdames D. B. Currie, Robert Tyus, and W. W. Hemphill were Corsicana visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Nettie Seale, Mrs. Andrew McClung and daughter, Lynette, spent Wednesday in Corsicana, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Finis Seale.

Mrs. Henry Ross and children, Betty Joe and Billy Frank, have returned to their home in Bryan, after a few days' visit with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Lindsey.

Mrs. Jack Nicholson spent Thursday and Friday in Dallas on business.

Mrs. Johnie Clayton and Miss Lela McClung were in Corsicana Thursday.

Howell Brister was in Dallas on business Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross and J. D. Alexander of Bryan were guests of Mrs. Howell Brister and Mrs. Andrew McClung Thursday.

Mrs. W. T. Stockton and Mrs. Wade Price, were in Corsicana Thrsday morning.

Miss Hortense Simms of Bryan visited home folks Thursday evening.

Card of Thanks

We take this method to express our heartfelt gratitude to the many kind friends in the loss of our father, grandfather and great-grandfather, J. C. Burns, for the many kind words of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings, especially do we thank the pastors, Revs. Cagle and Johnston, and also the choir for the songs rendered. May God bless you all is our prayer.—Mrs. J. C. Burns, Children, Grandchildren and Great Grandchildren.

Attempted Pass Bad Money.

A man was arrested Thursday night by Constable Clarence Powell for alleged attempting to pass a counterfeit quarter at the White Rose Tavern. The man was placed in the county jail, and probably will be turned over to federal operatives.

Courthouse News

District Court.

A jury was selected Thursday in the district court in the case of J. C. Buie, et al, vs. M. F. Oliphant, debt and foreclosure, and then was excused until Wednesday morning. The postponement of the beginning of the trial in this case was made by District Judge Wayne R. Howell because attorneys in the case are engaged in the trial of a case in Federal court.

County Clerk's Office.

There were thirty-six emergency feed loan checks received at the office of L. L. Powell, county clerk, Friday morning.

Assessor and Collector's Office.

A total of 260 automobile registrations had been paid at the office of T. A. Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes, it was announced Friday morning.

Farmer announced the booth installed in the lobby of the courthouse for auto and other motor vehicle registrations each year would be placed during the day and the remainder of the registrations during the month would be received there in order that this work will not interfere with the regular work in the main office. This custom has been followed for years.

Black Hills Cemetery Association Meets

The Black Hills Cemetery Association met Feb. 28 at the home of W. M. Cook.

It was decided to charge $5 per lot and $2.50 for half lot in the new addition to the cemetery. A plot is to be made of the new addition and W. N. Hamilton was elected to have charge of the plot and selling of the lots. Anyone wishing to buy a lot may see him.

The fence has been completed for the cemetery. We are all proud that this is done.

Mrs. W. N. Hamilton, Mrs. Frank McQuistion and Mrs. Mack Shivers were selected as a committee to buy and collect trees to beautify the cemetery.—Reporter.

Dawson Farmers to Increase Acreage Planted In Onions

DAWSON, March 4.—Dawson farmers are planting between 400 and 500 acres to onions this year, which is about 100 acres increase as compared to last year.

The avrage yield in this section is 150 to 200 bushels per acre, and the price average is about 50 cents per bushel.

Dawson Water Mains To Be Expected

DAWSON, March 4.—Relief workers were being signed this week by an official from the WPA office at Waxahachie to work on the extensions of the Dawson water mains. It has been reported that $3,625 has been allowed for the work. A main will be laid in the western section of town and to Farmersville. Four blocks of the old line will be removed and several fire hydrants will be relocated.

About 50 workers are being signed, but the time for the starting of the work has not been announced.

Sent to Federal Hospital.

J. C. Dorman of Palestine, formerly at the local CCC camp at Lake Halbert, a U. S. Army veteran, this week was sent to the government hospital at Muskogee, Okla., for treatment. He was sent through the efforts of K. A. Blakney, local veteran.

COTTON PRODUCERS SHOULD TAKE PART MARKETING VOTING

COLLEGE STATION, March 4.—(AP)—"I is very important that all cotton producers take part in the March 12 referendum on the cotton marketing quota," George Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, says.

The cotton quota plan will require a two-thirds favorable vote to be effective, or a one-third negative vote to be rejected, the state committee chairman pointed out. Therefore, the true will of the cotton farmers can be expressed only if practically all producers vote.

The referendum will be in charge of the county committees, who will provide convenient voting places and will appoint three local farmers to handle the referendum at each balloting place. Unofficial county results may be announced as soon as votes are tabulated.

The polls will open not later than 9 a. m. and will close at 7 p. m. Each producer who grew cotton in 1937 will be entitled to cast one vote.

Printed leaflets and other information on the details of the 1938 farm program have been sent to county agricultural agents for distribution among farmers, according to Slaughter.

Every farmer will have, before March 12, an opportunity to attend a county or community meeting at which the program will be explained, he said.

The material being distributed includes "A New Farm Act," a leaflet which summarizes the provisions of the agricultural adjustment act of 1938, and "Questions and Answers on the Agricultural Conservation act of 1938 as it Applies to Cotton," which covers important points on marketing quotas, acreage allotments, penalties, payments and loans.

Local Truck Driver Victim Pickpocket Thursday Afternoon

Charles Robinson, truck driver for the Texas Electric Railway company, Thursday afternoon was the victim of a pick-pocket artist while the parade of the Fort Worth Fat Stock show boosters was in progress, according to reports made to city officers and Constable Clarence Powell.

Robinson lost $16, a number of receipts and his automobile papers.

A suspect was arrested by city officers within a few minutes but later was released, when it was found he was not the one sought, it was reported.

Special Program Is Given March 2nd In Richland School

On Tuesday morning, March 2, the students, faculty, and school patrons gathered in the auditorium to enjoy a program prepared for them by Rev. J. D. Clare and Rev. Roy Johnson. The session was opened by mass singing of "Beautiful Texas." Mrs. Otto read the devotional. Special music was furnished by Mrs. an Elkins, Mrs. Walter McDaniel, and Rev. Johnson, and Misses Betty Lou Burton and Margie White. Rev. Johnson and Rev. Clare delivered interesting and inspirational discussions on "Co-operation."

Enthusiastic responses were made to Rev. Clare's suggestion that volunteers express themselves concerning their interest in the school. The high standard of college work, which is being done by the high school graduates was commended, an honor to the school and community.

The school extends a welcome to all who visit.—Reporter.

NAVARRO COUNTY FARMERS, GINNERS, EXTENSION SERVICE WORKERS, VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURAL TEACHERS AND BUSINESS MEN

WE ARE WITH YOU

- - - in your effort to create more prosperity by improving the quality of our Cotton Crop.

The "One Variety" plan whereby each farmer plants a seed block from the selected variety and arranges with the ginner to keep them pure; provides a source of good seed in the community, which will be used by neighbors for their general planting.

This method insures raising the average staple length and grade, increasing yields per acre and securing better prices for cotton.

Thousands of dollars may be added to the annual income of Navarro County farmers by the adoption of this plan.

WE HEARTILY ENDORSE THE VARIETY YOU HAVE SELECTED and congratulate you on your progressiveness. You have our full cooperation toward making this program a success.

ADMITTED SLAYER M'KINNEY OFFICER HELD AT GREENVILLE

WIDELY SOUGHT YOUTH CAPTURED NEAR DURANT; CHARGES ARE FILED

GREENVILLE, March 4.—(AP)—J. W. Rickman, 20-year-old confessed slayer, was taken from the Hunt county jail here today to lead officers to the pravel pit between Melissa, Collin county, and Sherman into which he told officers he tossed the gun with which he shot down McKinney's motorcycle patrolman, Marion Taylor.

Assistant County Attorney Eugene Brady prepared to file five felony charges against Rickman in Hunt county, two alleging hijacking and three charging automobile theft. Brady said Rickman probably would be tried during the March term of district court opening Monday.

Sheriff Wolfe of Hunt county said Rickman had been living for two months in Southern Hunt county and had confessed hijacking a service station here several weeks ago and the theft of two trucks which he drove to a point near where he lived and abandoned them under a bridge.

Wolfe said Rickman admitted theft of an automobile at Wolfe City Tuesday night and that he slugged Hubert Dodd with a blackjack when Dodd recognized him during robbery of Dodd's filling station a few hours later.

Taylor was shot to death Wednesday night when he sought to question the occupant of a commandeered taxicab.

Rickman was brought here from Sherman where he had been taken from Durant, Okla., where he was arrested yesterday as he hitchhiked toward Fort Sill, Okla.

H. H. Neilson, Collin county attorney, filed a slaying charge at McKinnew and said the Farmersville youth probably would go to trial in April or May. Neilson said Rickman admitted he was the man who fired six bullets into Taylor's body when the patrolman approached the taxicab. The suspect also admitted having stolen an automobile at Wolfe City Tuesday night and robbing a man near Greenville the same night.

The Greenville robbery netted $6 and an automatic pistol. Rickman, who said he was headed for a brother's home at Fort Sill when he was arrested, was unarmed at the time. The pistol had been thrown away. After the shooting he walked to Meliassa, a few miles from McKinney, spent the night in a restroom in the rear of a restaurant, and boarded a bus the next morning. When the bus reached Durant, rather than lay over several hours, he started hitch-hiking.

Officers, working on the theory Taylor had been slain by a deserter from an army post in Oklahoma, were on the lookout. Army authorities later said there was no record that Rickman was a deserter.

The taxicab had been commandeered in Dallas. The driver said he violated a traffic law in McKinney to attract attention.

COTTON MARKETING QUOTA REFERENDUM MATERIALS MAILED

COLLEGE STATION, March 7.—(AP)—Materials for use in the AAA cotton marketing quota referendum next Saturday were being received in Texas cotton producing counties today.

Ballots, summary sheets and report forms were mailed by Texas agricultural administration officials here Saturday, E. N. Holmgreen, AAA administrator for Texas, said.

He said officials were hopeful all eligible farmers would vote. Polls will be open all day Saturday and any landlord, tenant or sharecropper who produced cotton in 1937 will be permitted to vote.

If more than one-third of producers vote "no" to the single question on the ballot—"Do you favor marketing quotas on cotton?—quotas already put into effect by Secretary Wallace will not be operative in 1938.

Official totals may be available at the state AAA office here late Tuesday, March 15, Holmgreen said.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY LAUNCH CAMPAIGN TO NAME BRIDGE HONOR TEXAS HERO

The Dick Dowling chapter, No. 404, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. R. F. Pray, president, Beaumont, has launched an intensive campaign which is expected to result in the naming of the high bridge over the Neches river, south of Beaumont, the Dick Dowling Bridge, according to a letter received by Miss Elizabeth Harllee, president of the Navarro Chapter, U. D. C., from Mrs. Pray.

"This is a golden opportunity to have the South's tallest bridge—a truly magnificent structure costing more than $2,700,000—appropriately memoralize a Southern and a Texas hero, Dick Dowling. The scene of the battle which made his name immortal is just a few miles south of the bridge, and on the same highway," Mrs. Pray writes.

Asks Assistance.

"Interest, if you will, your friends and all influential citizens in this matter, and have as many as possible write to the highway commissioners at once. The bridge belongs to Texas, not to any one town or to one or two counties," the letter states.

Mrs. Pray also encloses a copy of a letter she has written to Judge Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the state highway department in which the commission is urged to name the bridge in honor of the Texas hero.

In the letter to Chairman Bobbitt it is pointed out:

"As you know, the high bridge over the Neches River south of Beaumont is nearing completion, and plans are being made to celebrate the dedication of the magnificent span.

"However, an unfortunate situation has come about in regard to naming of the structure. We, in this section, who have proudly watched the bridge grow had anticipated that when the proper time came the state highway commission would give it a name in keeping with its statewide importance, and one of which all of us, particularly in this section, might heartily approve.

"Imagine our surprise when suddenly we learn that the highway commission has delegated the naming of the bridge to the county commissioners court x x .

Honor Texas Hero.

"Similar outstanding and unusual structures commonly are designated by some name having a memorial or scenic significance. Witness Golden Gate Bridge, the George Washington Bridge, the Ambassador Bridge, etc. x x

"Now Dick Dowling Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy believes that the state highway commission could and should yet name the bridge. And no better name could be used than that of Dick Dowling, who was one of Texas' greatest heroes, and the particular hero of Southwest Texas. He it was who, with 47 men, repelled an attempted invasion of Texas by 4,000 Federals in 1863, at the memorable Battle of Sabine Pass. The State of Texas has erected a statue of him and has created a park at the site of the battle. Every citizen of Jefferson county, both in Beaumont and Port Arthur, admires and reveres the name of Dick Dowling. Thus one of Texas' heroes would be signally memoralized and at the same time all of Jefferson county and of the state could join in advertising an engineering feat x x x "

The local chapter of the United Daughter of the Confederacy is joining with the Dick Dowling Chapter in urging all to write to the state highway commission requesting the bridge be officially named the "Dick Dowling Bridge."

SIXTH YEAR OF ROOSEVELT'S ADMINISTRATION OPENS WITH FEW MAJOR MATTERS PENDING

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's administration began its sixth year today in an atmosphere of unhurried calm—vastly different from the tense, hectic days which followed the 1933 inauguration.

In contrast to the bulging portfolios of emergency legislation rushed through congress during the banking crisis, the senate and house now are working leisurely on only four major items:

1. Tax revision, including modification of business levies.

2. A billion-dollar naval expansion program.

3 Creation of wage-hour standards.

4. Reorganization of the 135 government agencies.

Furthermore, leaders said they did not expect additional proposals at this session. A forthcoming presidential message probably will recommend a study of monopolies with a view to 1939 revision of the anti-trust laws.

Mr. Roosevelt took note of the anniversary by attending special service at historic St. John's Episcopal church. Most of the cabinet members were with him, just as they were on that bleak morning five years ago to "humbly ask the blessing of God" in the arduous days ahead.

This time, there was no fanfare. No crowds braved the raw weather to throng the park between the church and the White House.

State Department.

The state department—scene of some of the administration's gravest recent problems—recognized the anniversary in a memorandum declaring that "peace is the cornerstone of the foreign policy of the United States."

The occasion brought no break in the work of congress, however. Members are plodding along, in the hope of an early adjournment so that they can return home to campaign for re-election.

So far the session has produced two major bills, both recommended by the president. One set up a new crop control system to replace the old AAA, and the other relaxed restrictions on federal aid in home building.

In March 1933, on the other hand, congress was enacting monetary and banking measures almost at the rate of one a day.

Out of those bustling days, too, grew the first of the New Deal's social and industrial laws—national industrial recovery, agricultural adjustment, securities, bank deposit insurance, Tennessee Valley Authority, and other acts. Funds eventually reaching into the billions were authorized.

NRA and AAA Killed.

Both NRA and AAA soon were hauled into court, however, and in the third year of the New Deal the supreme court killed them both.

Although that original farm act has been replaced, nothing has been done to restore NRA. Some features, looking to improvement of conditions for low-paid workers have been embodied in wage-hour proposals.

The overthrow by the courts of several New Deal laws resulted a year ago in Mr. Roosevelt's request for authority to inject "new blood" in the judicial system, especially the supreme court.

Although the bill was defeated the administration has claimed victory in its objective, for two supreme court justices retired and were replaced by Roosevelt's appointees.

The president's fight for the court bill, observers agreed, weakened administration control in the senate. This spread to the house during the special session last fall when conseervatives, led by Southern representatives, blocked action on a wage-hour bill.

May Not Pass Bill.

Some house leaders have expressed the belief that it may be impossible to pass a wage-hour bill this session, despite efforts of the labor committee to work out a measure to meet most objections.

Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement read last night at the labor department's 25th anniversary dinner:

"Today there is general recognition that there should be floor to wages and a ceiling to hours."

His government reorganization proposal has precipitated a bitter fight in the senate, stirring much the same opposition that the court bill aroused. Administration leaders say they have enough votes to pass the bill after another week or so of debate.

The tax revision bill is now before the house, and the huse naval cmmittee apprved yesterday the huge shipbuilding program.

SALVATION ARMY'S ADVISORY BOARD IS CALLED TO MEET

All members of the advisory board of the Salvation Army are called to meet in special session at the Army citadel Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which time the matter of the annual budget campaign of this organization will be discussed, relative to the one campaign for all local organizations to be held this fall.

J. M. Dyer is chairman of the advisory board and Boyce Martin, secretary. Suttle Roberts, president of the State National Bank, will address the body in regard to the one fall campaign, that is being undertaken under direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

Popular Fairfield Couple Married On Friday Evening

FAIRFIELD, March 7.—(Spl.) Before a large audience of relatives and friends at the First Baptist church of Fairfield Friday evening, Miss Verna Mae Manahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Manahan, became the bride of Zack Stroud, son of A. A. Stroud of Fairfield.

The bride wore a lovely frock of ashes of roses chiffon with accessories to match. Her bridesmaid, Miss Hazey Grace McFadin, was attired in navy blue crepo and both the bride and her attendant wore lovely corsages.

Patcher Harding attended as best man.

The impressive ceremony was read by the Rev. W. R. Miller, before a beautifully arraigned altar banked in smilax, redbud and white flowering peach blossoms.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Robert Rhea, accompanied by Mrs. Rae McDonald, played, "Indian Love Call" and "Because." Mrs. Bowlen Bond, sang, "I Love You Truly." Mrs. McDonald played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the wedding party entered the church, and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, following the ceremony.

Both the bride and groom are well known young Fairfield people with many friends.

They will make their home in Fairfield.

Sedan Hits Horse Which Lands Dead In the Back Seat

GOLDTHWAITE, March 7.—(AP)—The light sedan of A. Renfro of Temple wasn't constructed for horse cargo.

So when the auto collided with it, the horse was thrown into the air and crashed through the top, the head on the back seat.

Renfro, his wife and two children received only a few scratches but the impact was fotal to the horse, which was removed only by turning the badly wrecked car upside down.

The Renfro family was enroute to Coleman to visit relatives injured in another automobile mishap

The confederate veterans are always welcome.

Dorothy Frances Dyer Of Rice Ranks With Upper TSCW Girls

DENTON, March 7.—(Spl.)—Complying with grade requirements for the Honor Roll, Miss Dorothy Frances Dyer of Rice ranked scolastically with the upper fourteen per cent of the student body on the first semester's Texas State College for women.

Miss Dyer's attainment was to make a high B average in her home economic course. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Dyer, she is freshman student at the college.

OFFICERS RECOVER STOLEN GOODS FROM STORE IN PLANO

DENTON, March 7.—(AP)—Sheriff Dallas Curtsinger said today charges of receiving and concealing stolen property had been filed against H. S. Skaggs, owner of a general store at Plano, and a son of Skaggs, whose first name was not yet known.

Curtsinger said articles confiscated in the Plano store had been identified as having been taken from two Denton county places recently burglarized.

Charges of burglary were filed here last week against Woodrow Wilson Haley, Melvin Haley, Buddie Ward and Jack Hall. Mrs. Minnie Haley, Mrs. Mozelle Haley and Emma Jo King were charged with receiving stolen goods.

DALLAS, March 7.—(AP)—Federal, state and county officers recovered loot this week end from a general store at Plano which housed one of the largest caches of stolen goods recovered in the Southwest in several years, Dallas County Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker said.

Decker said postoffice inspectors, state highway patrolmen, and officers from four Texas counties went to the store after three of eight persons charged with store and postoffice thefts, disclosed whereabouts of the loot. He said the owner of the store was arrested.

Decker said the eight, four men and four women, began operations in 1936 and "pulled jobs" at Pondeo, Huffines, Lewisville, Forreston, Caddo, Savoy, Milford, and Sulphur Springs.

One of the number he described as a fugitive from the Sulphur Springs jail; another a fugitive from Hartley jail, and said another was under indictment at Palo Pinto.

The eight, with the storeowner, were held in North Texas jails, including Dallas, Waxahachie and Denton. Four were women.

Fish Denounces New Tax Revision Bill

WASHINGTON, Marc 7.—(AP)—Representative Fish (R-NY) told the house today the tax revision bill would continue "destructive, punitive taxes" that have "destroyed business confidence, prolonged the depression and retarded recovery.

Resuming a republican denunciation of the legislation when the house started its third day's work on the measure, Fish shouted:

"It is a makeshift, a snare and a delusion. It doesn't balance the budget. It doesn't assume to balance the budget.

"It makes no difference to tax exempt securities—the biggest single loophole by which the rich avoid taxes."

While the house debated the tax bill, the senate, laying aside temporarily the government reorganization measure, took up the District of Columbia appropriation.

The senate unemployment committee, turning its study to rural conditions, heard from a WPA official that many farm families were suffering great privation.

Corrington Gill, assistant Works Progress Administrator, told the committee there were large numbers of rural workers who would have to be carried on relief rolls until 1938 crops are harvested.

Reports Are Opposed.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Chairman LaFollette (Prog-Wis) put into the senate civil liberties committee's record today an endorsement by the National Manufacturers' Association of the program by which the 1936 Remington-Rand strike in Ilion, N. Y., was ended. He then entered a National Labor Relations Board decision condemning the program.

The N. A. M. report on the strike, given in a bulletin to members, was issued before the labor board's action.

The labor board decision cited Remington Rand for "unfair labor practice." It accused the company of importing "strike breakers" and using "a publicity campaign" to "cloak the ruthlessness" of its tactics.

Senate Approves Report.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—The senate approved today the conference report on the $1,400,000,000 appropriations for independent federal agencies.

Included in the measure is a provision for senate confirmation of experts and attorneys appointed to jobs paying $5,000 or more.

The measure now goes to the house where the confirmation provision and senate increases in funds for the Tennessee Valley Authority and rural electrification administration face possible opposition.

Eliminated from the measure was a provision which would have given the president an "item veto" power over any part of the big appropriation measure.

"We were agreed that when congress passes an appropriation measure it should be approved in whole by the president," said Senator Adams (D-Colo.) one of the senate-house conferees.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY HINTS AT RATE HIKE

OPERATING EXPENSES ADVANCING FASTER THAN INCOME IS REPORT

ST. LOUIS, March 7.—(AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company asserted today if wages, taxes and other operating expenses continue their upward trend, "the company may soon be put in the position of having to ask for increases in the charges for its services."

Particularly, the company's annual report said, would this be true in communities where the rates have been "stationary for 20 years, although cost and scope of the service have increased materially."

The company reported its gross operating revenues for the past year were $86,409,542, an improvement of 8 per cent over 1936, but total operating expenses increased 9 1-2 per cent from $50,841,318 to $55,670,954. Total wages of $33,897,839 were paid to 24,923 employes.

Operating taxes of $10,751,381 were the largest in the company's history, the report said.

The ice storm of January, 1937, which forced replacement of 42,000 poles and 27,000 miles of wire in an area extending from South Central Texas to the Iowa-Missouri border, cost the company about $2,500,000, the report stated.

For 1937, the company announced a net gain of 77,848 telephones, with the number in service at the end of December, 1,399,748 slightly exceeding the peak of 1930. It handled 58,909,000 long-distance calls during the year.

Discussing general business conditions in the states it serves—Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and a small portion of Illinois adjacent to St. Louis—the company said:

"The recovery in general business which began in 1933 continued through the first half of 1937, and in July activity in the territory served by the company reached the highest level since 1930.

"During the closing months of 1937, however, business in the territory, concurrent with substantial decreases in industrial operations in the entire country, declined sharply. At the end of the year, activity was below the level of a year earlier, except in Texas, where business generally held up better than in the rest of the territory."

SCALE MODELS OF STORE FRONTS BE SHOWN MARCH 8TH

The Texas Power and Light Company is sponsoring a showing of a group of scale models demonstrating the most advanced thought in store front styling and construction, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., March 8, on the vacant lot corner, Main and Collin streets.

Exact to the smallest detail including exterior and interior lighting effects, the models are said to be of great value to anyone interested in store-front modernization, and are invited to see the exhibit, which is being taken on a nation-wide tour, and will not be shown again in this territory.

Corsicana Man Is Secretary-Treasurer Of Young Democrats

Friday's issue of the Houston Chronicle carried a three-column picture of F. H. Harvey, Jr., Corsicana, secretary-treasurer of the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas, W. H. Higginbotham, membership and organization chairman, and Kirby Jackson, Hillsboro, member of the state executive committee. They were in Houston Thursday conferring with Neal Pickett, state president. The state convention will be held in San Antonio, May 10 and 21.

Mr. Harvey is manager of the Corsicana office of the Texas Power and Light Company.

ing previous decisions, widened the field of federal and state taxation.

In a 5 to 2 decision it reversed rulings holding that the federal government could not tax income derived from land leased from a state and that a state could not tax income derived from land leased from the federal government.

Chief Justice Hughes delivered the majority opinion which asserted that "we are convinced that the rulings in Gillespie V. Oklahoma and Burnet V. Coronado Oil & Gas Company are out of harmony with correct principle and accordingly they should be, and they now are, overruled."

Be Candidate For Rail Commissioner

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—G. A. Jerry Sadler, Longview attorney, today filed notice of candidacy for railroad commissioner with the Democratic state executive committee.

The one-time independent producer and refiner was the first to file for the office with the committee. He has never held political office.

Beauty Diary

of Edna Kent Forbes

YOUR EYEBROWS

How to determine the most becoming shape for your eyebrows, is the subject of Miss Forbes' talk today.

E. K. Forbes

Yours should not be like the eyebrows of every other person, they should be the perfect brows for you, and therefore give character and emphasis to your entire face! If you were one who followed the fad for the slender and pencilled brows, you will be pleased with the change that will take place. If you went to the other extreme and let nature decide just what was best for you, you may also have an advantage coming to you by curbing, or removing straggly hairs that make the brows look unkempt really spoiling the curve of the arch.

If you are taking a little time at this season to look yourself over, a half hour may be well spent in experimenting with this important detail. You will not take chances of spoiling your appearance, if you practise a bit first, finding out just which is the most becoming arch for you. No plucking of hairs, really nothing but that of getting ready while you are finding out what is your "ideal brow."

Brush your brows, tiny mascara brushes come for this, costing about ten cents, brush against the direction in which they grow, then with their natural direction. If the hairs wander too far from the arch, brush downward, or upward, centering the growth so as to be able to experiment. Cover the brows with heavy cream, greasepaint is best as it will completely obscure the hair for the time. Practise now, using an eyebrow pencil, and etch into the oily base the arch most becoming to y . Decide on its width too, narrow, medium, or wide; also lengthen it if that is needed. Wipe off the excess cream, and remove all hairs outside of your given margin. For spots that may be thin, you will have to fillin with the soft pencil.

John T.—You may mix sulphur with any oil to rub into the scalp for the antiseptic hot oil treatment. Of course, there are sulphur ointments to be bought but these do not give the oily treatment that the scalp needs and will get when you manage your own oil treatment. Even if the sulphur is a bit gritty, it does not matter, for the oil will act a a carrier for the sulphur, and the antiseptic treatment is assured even if the sulphur lies over the scalp long enough to purify it. A scalp specialist will use very pleasant and convenient pomades too if you prefer these.

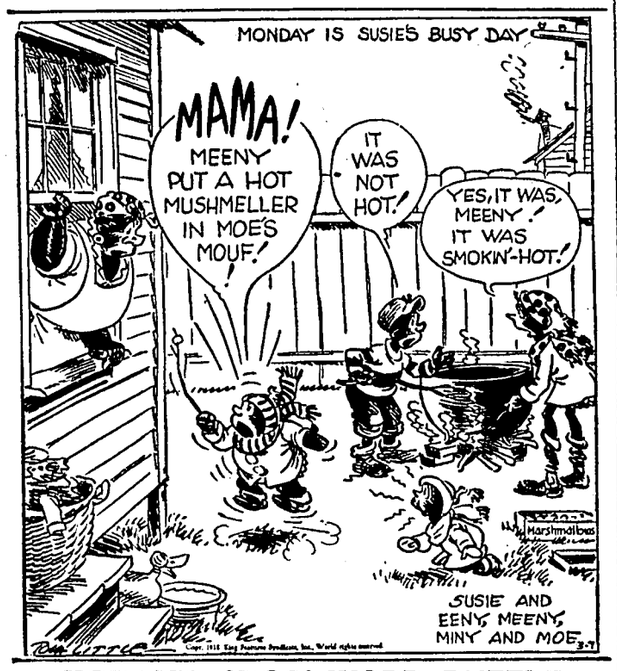

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes' three NEW beauty booklets: 1. "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty." (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty." (3) "Eating And Bathing for Beauty." Send ten cents (in stamps) for EACH booklet, to pay for printing and handling and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (s.a.s.e.). Foreign markets attracted attention as the Bombay discount under New York widened to slightly more than 80 American points. This brought Bombay selling and scattered liquidation.

Shortly after the first half hour the market showed net losses of 3 to 7 points with May selling at 9.08.

The market became quiet later in the morning. Foreign orders were on both sides but contracts were comparatively scarce except for occasional spurts of selling.

May was selling at 9.08 and prices generally were 5 to 8 points net lower.

New Orleans Cotton Opens Lower

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 6 to 8 points net lower today.

March contracts opened at 9.15 bid, May 9.19, July at 9.25, Oct 9.33, Dec. and Jan. 9.35.

Towards the end of the first half hour prices were ruling 6 points under the previous close.

Weather conditions in the growing region were unfavorable. Temperatures were freezing to below in the northern section and below normal in most other areas.

Continued broadening of the parity between Bombay and domestic centers resulted in additional selling during the morning by brokers with foreign connections.

Near mid-session May contracts traded at 9.20, July at 9.26, Oct. 9.33 and Dec. at 9.37, or 4 to 7 points under the previous close.

Reports that total sales in Worth Street last week were only 5,000,000 yards.

The turnover here Saturday was 9,300 bales and open commitments 414,300, an increase of 1,100 bales over the previous day.

The market recovered partially in the late trading on price fixing by the trade and prices closed steady at net declines of 2 to 4 points. Exports today were 20,480 bales.

week grows in virtually every state in the nation.

Its growth is prohibited. And notwithstanding the commercial value of hemp, which takes on narcotic properties at a certain stage of growth, that plant cannot to any practical purpose be grown in Texas. Rangers destroyed 600 acres of it in the lower Rio Grande Valley last year.

Peculiar to anti-narcotics enforcement, officers say, is the fact that none but they file complaints against offenders. Unlike other crimes, both parties—peddler and addict—are happy about the transaction. It is necessary, therefore, for officers to use informers and sometimes make purchases themselves to secure evidence, accounting for much of the undercover activity.

Police statistics show "dope" and crime are closely linked. They have noted time and again that when "dopeheads" are jailed in wholesale lots petty crime drops sharply.

Carmichael says the statute is "the best law ever passed."

It abolished search warrants and other red tape incident to enforcement and—most important—prohibits suspended sentences. Violations are felonies, carrying jail sentences of from two to 10 years.

BARBARA YAKOVLEVA, ONCE HEROINE, PURGE WITNESS MONDAY

TELLS OF NIKOLAI BUCHARAIN WANTING LENIN AND STALIN ASSASSINATED

MOSCOW, March 7.—(AP)—Barbara Yakovleva, once a heroine of the Bolshevist revolution, came from prison today to testify against Nikolai Bucharain, like herself fallen from the highest ranks of Russia's leadership.

On the witness stand in Moscow's greatest treason trial, Madame Yakovleva, a large woman of 53, testified she heard in 1918 that Bucharin wanted Nikolai Lenin and Joseph Stalin assassinated if they insisted on peace with Germany.

Madame Yakovleva, like Bucharin, was a close associate of Lenin in the early stages of the revolution.

Bucharin stoutly defended himself against accusations of seeking the assassinations of Lenin and Stalin and of spying. But the hopelessness of his defense—the Moscow Press indicates he and his 20 co-defendants are doomed to death—was indicated by his readiness to accept responsibility for espionage activities of his subordinates—for Germany, Britain, Japan, Poland—even though he knew nothing about them.

He declared that Leon Trotsky, now exiled in Mexico, was "the real instigator and leader" of plots against the Soviet regime.

Bucharin Refuses to Admit Any Spying

MOSCOW, March 7.—(AP)—Nikolai Bucharin steadfastly refused today to admit any per onal share in espionage for foreign powers as part of a coinfessed plot against the Soviet regime.

The former editor of Izvestia, government newspaper, accepted responsibility, however, for any spying that his subordinates may have done, whether apanese, German or British.

Bucharin and Prosecutor Andrei Y. Vishinsky quibbled nearly two hours at the opening of today's session of Moscow's greatest treason-murder trial over the prosecutor's attempt to pin espionage directly on the leader of the 21 confessed conspirators.

Bucharin denied that Lew M. Karakhan, former head of the Far Eastern section of the foreign ministry, was a "German spy" but finally said he knew Karakhan was associated with Germany.

Bucharin asserted, however, that he objected to giving away any territory when the writer, Karl Radek, told him in 1934 of alleged conversations by Leon Trotsky with Nazis about such territorial grants.

Bucharin insisted Karakhan negotiated for neutrality.

"We feared Germans might invade the Soviet Union on news of our coup," the ex-editor said.

Bucharin testified the idea of a palace revolution was born among his so-called rightists about 1929.

Michael Tomski, former president of the Soviet Trade Union who died near Moscow in 1936 under mysterious circumstances, Bucharin said was a friend of Avel Yenukidze who then controlled the Kremlin guard and it was proposed to work through Yenukidze in smashing directly at Stalin.

Bucharin, doomed head man of the 21 confessed conspirators now on trial, said he and a co-defendant, former Premier Alexis I. Rykoff, sent men into the provinces to organize a peasant uprising at the end of 1931.

Barbara Yakovevi, one-time woman chief of the dread Cheka (secret police), was called to the stand to tell what she knew about an attempt to assassinate Lenin in 1918.

championship four times and the French title and reached the final round at Wimbledon three times, losing to Perry in 1935 and 1936 and to Budge last year. He figured in one of the most sensational matches of all times last summer, a losing five-set battle with Budge in the interzone Davis cup finals. Later the red-headed American took his measure again in the American championship finals.

The authorities, however, qualified von Cramm's "arrest" by stating he had been summoned to police headquarters "for clarification and examination, pending which, he was held in custody."

Corsicana Negro Killed In Juarez

John Steward, about 25, Corsicana negro, who was killed in Juarez, Mexico, Friday morning, was buried here Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He left Corsicana several days ago and went to El Paso.

According to information received here, Steward was in the line of fire during a pitched gun battle between several Mexican officers and was an innocent bystander. Three were killed and three wounded.

A report from El Paso stated that three negroes crossed the bridge from El Paso into Juarez, and federal officers and police got into an argument as to whether the three negroes would be arrested or freed and the shooting followed.

An Associated Press report said authority between city and federal officers was reported to be the underlying cause of the battle following numerous clashes in recent months.

Sick and Convalescent

Mrs. Clark Butler underwent a minor operation Monday morning at the P. and S. hospital.

Dr. W. F. Horger is a pneumonia patient in the P. and S. hospital.

Miss Pauline Hablo is a medical patient in the P. and S. hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams are the proud parents of a baby daughter born this morning at the P. and S. hospital.

Dwain Blissette, a resident of the Streetman community, received a broken arm when he was reported to have been struck by an automobile Saturday night. He was given treatment at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, and was able to be taken home Monday.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd was reported on the sick list Monday morning.

Mrs. Mable Wilkinson, deputy [illegible] was reported on the sick list Monday.

MEMBERS COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD UP FOR REELECTION

Three of the five members of the Navarro county school board will be up for re-election at the trustee elections to be held in Navarro county Saturday, April 2.

O. L. Albritton of Corsicana, county trustee at large; L. B. Bonner, Eureka, trustee from Precinct 1, and J. A. Jackson, Powell, Precinct 2 trustee, are those whose terms expire.

Holdover members of the county board are W. B. Payne, Pursley, Precinct 3, and J. F. Slater, Frost, Precinct 4.

Election of trustees in all the common school and other districts of the county will also be held on that date.

AUSTIN REPORTS DOG KILLED STATE HOME HAD RABIES

J. S. Halley, superintendent of the State Home, said Monday afternoon that a report had been received from Austin on the dog that was killed Saturday and the report stated that the dog had rabies.

The two boys at the Home who were bitten by the dog will be given the Pasteur treatment immediately and the dogs at the institution will be killed. The boys were placed in the hospital at the Home Saturday immediately after they were bitten for first aid treatment.

SPECIAL DEPUTIES QUESTIONED ABOUT DEATH THREE MEN

RIO GRANDE CITY, March 7.—(AP)—Five special deputies were questioned today in connection with a gun battle on the old military highway near here yesterday in which three men were killed.

Two of the three, Eulalio Elizando, 40, and Joe Cantu,, 54 were said by Octavio Sanchez, chief deputy sheriff of Starr county, to have been scheduled to go on trial at Alice today on charges of murder.

Elizando was a former Starr county deputy sheriff; Cantu, a former Rio Grande City deputy constable, and the third victim, Ramon de la Cruz, 34, was at the time of his death a Starr county deputy sheriff.

Sanchez said Elizando was to have gone on trial in connection with the slaying of David Gomez at Rio Grande City Memorial Day, 1934, and Cantu was to have been tried in connection with the death of Pablo Salis on the same date.

He said Justice of the Peace A. P. Vera, Jr., had deputized five men to serve a warrant on Elizando charging disturbing of the peace at Lagrulla, near here Saturday night.

The deputies saw Elizando leaving Rio Grande City in a truck belonging to Cantu, accompanied by Cantu and de la Cruz, and followed in an automobile, Sanchez said. The deputies passed the truck, ordered it to halt, and the firing began, Sanchez said. He said it had not been determined who fired the first shot.

Lasater Given 25 Years For Killing Corsicana Man

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 7.—(AP)—Millard F. (Dude) Lasater, 37, Oklahoma ex-convict, was sentenced to serve from 20 to 25 years in the Arizona prison today for second degree murder.

Lasater was convicted of killing Ted Harris, Corsicana, Tex., oil field worker, last December 8. Harris was found with his throat cut following what officers say was a drinking party.

Lasater, who was sentenced to the Oklahoma prison for attempted burglary in 1935, testified he left Harris "alive and well" in the tourist court cabin where the body was found.

Defense counsel said the case would be appealed.

Negro Found Dead Near Richland

A negro named Bailey was found dead on the Andrews farm east of Richland Monday morning. Constable W. G. Ivey answered the call and Judge C. Healer, Richland justice of the peace, viewed the body. No coroner's verdict was immediately returned pending further investigation.

CEMENT SUITS

ment companies. The Federal Trades Commission supplied much data to further the inquiry.

"Practically all public bids and private quotations are identical," McCraw's petition said. "Any variation from perfection in identical bidding, with but few exceptions, is the result of error rather than design."

As an example, bids of four defendants to the bureau of reclamation of the U. S. Department of Interior, on 360,000 barrels of cement for construction of Buchanan and Inks dams on the Colorado river northeast of Austin, were cited.

The petition asserted the bids were identical even to the "fourth decimal point of a cent per barrel."

It was complained the manufacturers had agreed not to sell cement directly to the state highway department on a wholesale basis.

Although the practice was broken up for a period in 1932 when the department bought directly from Oklahoma mills, the petition said, the manufacturers suddenly stopped selling directly.

When the department again sought to purchase from Oklahoma it found mills in that state had adopted a policy of refusing to sell at wholesale.

The petition charged efforts to "freeze out" sale of foreign cement at Texas seaports when foreign product was quoted as much as $1 below the domestic price.

Members of the legislative investigating committee last year studied the feasibility of utilizing cement manufactured in Mexico. It also discussed possibility of setting up a state-owned plant.

The petition specifically charged "the defendants entered into a conspiracy and formed a trust and combination of their capital, skill and acts" for these reasons:

"The create and carry out...restrictions in trade and commerce ...and in the free pursuit of the business of manufacturing and marketing cement within the state of Texas.

Price Fixing Charged

"To fix, maintain, increase and reduce the price of cement and prevent and lessen competition in marketing of cement,

"To maintain standard and figures whereby the price of cement ...was controlled.

"To enter into agreements not to sell cement" except to customers "arbitrarily selected."

"To regulate and limit the output of cement and to abstain and cause others to abstain from engaging...in the business of marketing cement."

The suit was limited to intrastate transactions but the petition declared the conspiracy operated on a nationwide scale.

"Not only did defendants enter into said conspiracy and form said trusts and combitions for the purpase of executing the same within Texas," it said, "but the conspiracy, trust and combination was, in the main, a part of a national conspiracy, trust and combination...involving all other manufacturers of cement within the United States.

Scheme To Control Prices

"Said conspiracy, trust and combination was a part of a general scheme to control prices, restrict competition and restrain trade, in the manufacture and sale of cement, not only in Texas, but throughout the United States...

"The relief sought in this cause is limited, however, to purely intra-state transactions because of jurisdictional limitations."

It was alleged the "conspiracy" was established not only by written agreements, but also through frequent national, sectional and local meetings, personal contacts, discussions, correspondence and exchanges of information between officers and representatives of manufacturers and trade associations. The agreements were asserted to both formal and "tacit."

Discussing the Cement Institute's code of etichics, the petition said:

"Every part of said code of ethics was intended by the members of the institute, and particularly the defendant members, and the Longhorn and San Antonio companies to control their business x x x and each sentence and paragraph of said code as applied to the intra-state business of manufacturing and marketing cement within Texas constitutes a violation 'of the anti-trust law,'"

The petition further said that while the two companies with principal offices in San Antonio were not members of the institute they allegedly followed the code of ethics and had agreed to co-operate closely with other Texas manufacturers in carrying out its provisions.

No Comment on Suit

DALLAS, March 7.—(AP)—Offices here of the Lone Star Cement corporation and the Trinity Portland Cement company said they had no comment to make at this time in connection with an anti-trust suit filed against them and four other cement firms at Austin today.

Attorney General McCraw filed the suit seeking cancellation of charters and penalties.

COURT HOLDS BEER ELECTION INVALID; APPEAL SCHEDULED

FORM OF BALLOT DID NOT COMPLY WITH THE TEXAS LIQUOR CONTROL ACT

The beer election held in Navarro county, Dec. 28, last year, was invalidated in a ruling handed down Saturday morning by Wayne R. Howell, judge of the Thirteenth judicial district court, in the case of E. E. Miller, et al, vs. Paul H. Miller, et al, beer election contest. Defense attorney Tom L. Tyson stated that the decision would be appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals. The firm of Mays and Mays represented the plaintiffs. A hearing on the contest was held several days ago.

Judge Howell's ruling voiding the results of the election was based on the use of a form of ballot not conforming with the form provided for in the Texas Liquor Control Act.

Following the canvassing and declaring of the results of the election on January 3, 1938, by the commissioners court, a restraining order was granted in the case late in January, directed at Cleo G. Miller, criminal district attorney, and other state and county officials to prevent the enforcement of the results of the election until the contest was heard on its merits.

Navarro county went into the "dry" column as to the sale of beer by a majority of 439 votes at the election in December.

The contest petition attacked the manner of calling the election, the calling of two elections on one petition, etc., but at the hearing only that portion about the ballot wording was relied upon.

Text of Ruling.

Following is the ruling handed down Saturday morning by Judge Howell:

This is a contest of a county wide local option election held in Navarro county on December 28, 1937, pursuant to a petition presented to the Commissioners' Court of Navarro county requesting the calling of such election.

The grounds of such contest are in substance as follows:

(1) That the petition in question was not signed by the requisite number of qualified voters;

(2) That an election was first called on such petition for December 24, 1937, but that such order calling said election was rescinded by the Commissioners' court and a second order was entered on the same petition calling for an election on December 28, 1937; that a second order for election could not be based upon the same identical petition; and,

Form of Ballot.

(3) That the form of ballot used in said election was fatally defective in that it did not comply with the form of ballot prescribed by the Texas Liquor Control Act as amended by Senate Bill No. 20, Acts of the First Called session of the Forty-Fifth Legislature, which became effective on September 1, 1937.

After carefully examining the first above named ground of contest, the Court has concluded that same presents an irregularity, but that same is not such irregularity as would invalidate the election, and such first ground of contest is overruled.

As to the second above named ground of contest, the Court has concluded, after careful examination of the authorities, that same is an irregularity but is not such an irregularity as would invalidate the election, and such second ground of contest is overruled.

The third above mentioned ground of contest dealing with the form of ballot used, presents a far more serious question, and one which the Court after careful examination of the Texas Liquor Control Act and of the decisions of the Appelate Courts interpreting said Act, has concluded must be sustained as presenting a ground fatal to the validity of the election in question.

In reaching this decision the Court bases his decision on the following grounds:

New Act in Force.

(a) At the time the election in question was held the Texas Liquor Control Act as amended by Senate Bill No. 20 above referred to was in force and effect, having gone into effect on September 1, 1937; that said Act, among other things, prescribes in Section 40 thereof the various forms of ballot to be used in local option elections and in subsections (h) and (i) thereof states that "In areas where the sale of beer containing alcohol not exceeding four (4 per cent) per centum by weight has been legalized and all other alcoholic beverages are prohibited, the following issue shall be submitted in any prohibitory election:

"For prohibiting the sale of beer containing alcohol not exceeding four (4 per cent) per centum by weight," and

"Against prohibiting the sale of beer containing alcohol not exceeding four (4 per cent) per centum by weight."

(b) That the form of ballot above prescribed by the Liquor Control Act applies to the situation which existed in Navarro county at the time of the election in question.

(c) The question then arises as to whether the provisions of the above quoted Texas Liquor Control Act are mandatory and must be used in submitting such question to the voters. Upon this question two of our Court of Appeals of Texas have delivered opinions, one in the case of Moyer, et al, vs. Kelley, et al, by the Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio, reported in 93 S. W. 502, and the other being in the case of Flowers vs. Shearer, by the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, reported in 107 S. W. (2d) 1049. It should be understood that in election contests the decisions of the Court of Civil Appeals of Texas are final. Hence the two above mentioned decisions must be accepted by this court as final declarations at least at the present time, as to whether the provisions of the Liquor Control Act are mandatory and must be followed.

Form Must Be Used.

Both of these decisions hold in effect that it is mandatory and necessary that where the Liquor Control Act prescribes a form of ballot applicable to the situation in any given area where a local option election is called, that such form of ballot must be used, and in the opinion of this Court this declaration of the law must be accepted as decisive of the third ground of the contest. It is admitted that the form of ballot actually used in the election in question did not comply with the above quoted provisions of the Texas Liquor Control Act, the form of ballot actually used being as follows:

"For prohibiting the sale of vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight.

"Against prohibiting the sale of vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight."

It is therefore the opinion of this Court that the third ground of said contest must be allowed, and said election be held invalid, and judgment will be entered accordingly.

District Judge.

Navarro PTA Met In Regular Session Thursday Afternoon

NAVARRO, March 5.—(Spl.)—The Navarro Parent-Teacher Association met in its regular business and study group session Thursday at 3:30 p. m., with Mrs. Henderson, the president, in the chair.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Thurman Henderson; vice president, Miss Vinson; secretary, Miss Pattor.; treasurer, Mrs. Hagler; publicity chairman, Mrs. C. C. Collins.

The parent education study course topic, "What School Should Mean to Children," was discussed by Mrs. O. E. Cowsar. In part she said: "The modern school educates the whole child. It is as much concerned with developing the child's total personality as with 'book learning.'"

Such a school is an integral part of the community. School should be a place which furnishes the experiences out of which character is formed.

A sense of responsibility ,intellectual integrity, good judgment and tolerance are only a few of the sound character qualities which the school may develop.

The modern school provides an opportunity for continuing, lifelong learning. A sympathetic and understanding teacher offers this definition: "A school is a place where young people come together to educate themselves with the help of their teachers."

John Dewey, our foremost educational philosopher. believes that a school should be a social institution—a process of living—a form of social life.

The public is invited to attend the amateur program Thursday evening, March 10, at 7:30 o'clock. —Publicity Chairman.

CONNALLY BILL IS SUBJECT CIVITAN SPEAKER FRIDAY

TAKE PROFITS AWAY AND ONE OF GREATEST CAUSES OF WAR ELIMINATED

The Connally bill, which proposes three drastic measures as a means of keeping the United States out of war, and which has already passed one house, was the basis of an interesting and timely address by Andrew Armistead, high school teacher and debate coach, at the joint dinner of the Frost and Corsicana Civitan clubs at the Navarro hotel last night.

According to Mr. Armistead the bill proposes to (1) take all the profit out of war, (2) put war on a cash basis and (3) mobilize all industry into as disciplined a unit as the United States Army in time of conflict.

Jack Paul and Mitchell Boyd were the program committee and President Ed Wendorf appointed L. M. Morton and Charles T. Banister as next Thursday's committee.

Frost Club Visitors.

Members of the Frost club present included President Ed L. Evans, Vice-President S. E. Gaines, Mayor Harry McCormick, Bill Youngblood, W. E. Bowman, Curtis Patterson, Lee Ellis, Porter Bailey, Rufe Stockard, Rev. J. S. Huckabee, Charles McMicken, John Slay, Mike Campbell, Tom Hoosier, W. A. Ross, W. V. Harrison, Eddie Moore, Frank Johnson and Jewel Smith.

Miss Christine Jackson, accompanied by Miss Wynkie Pierce, high school students, gave the musical portion of the program. Miss Jackson's songs were "I See Your Face Before Me," and "Here Am I," and were greatly enjoyed by the Civitans.

Dr. J. Wilson David, led the singing, and the invocation was pronounced by Mr. Huckabee.

After dinner, President Wendorf presented Tom Tyson who welcomed the Frost Civitans on behalf of the Corsicana club. He said "it is a fine thing to get together like this, where we can co-operate in promoting better citizenship—for which our club stands—and to put over the big projects that each club is sponsoring."

As an added attraction, Mr. Tyson aired what he termed a feud between two members of the Corsicana club, and arguments pro and con were given by Charles T. Banister, G. H. Brown, Mr. Tyson and President Wendorf.

Jack Paul introduced Mr. Armistead.

The speaker said Senator Connally has introduced a bill which has made news because of its strict provisions and because it has recently passed one house. As a preface, Mr. Armistead said that during the four years of the late World War, 22,000 persons became "new millionaires" not to mention ones who were already millionaires and added millions to their bank accounts, and others whose earnings fell a little short of the million mark.

Too Many Rubber Boots.

The speaker said that someone was a good salesman, sold the United States 4,000,000 pairs of rubber boots for use of American soldiers in France, even though the United States did not send that many men to France, and even if they had, not all of them would have had use for rubber boots. He also recalled the tactics of the late Sir Basil Zaharoff, who recently died one of the world's richest men. Mr. Armistead said Zaharoff would go to Rumania and tell them that Bulgaria was preparing for war, and sell the Rumanians 500,000 high powered guns, then show the order to Bulgarians and sell them a million guns of the same type.

"Imagine the feelings of the American soldiers who came home wounded, gassed and maimed for life," the speaker went on, "at learning that 22,000 persons had become millionaires during those four years."

Mr. Armistead explained the first part of the Connally bill, which proposes to make it impossible (through drastic taxation) for anyone to make a profit out of or during a war. A single man, he went on, is allowed an exemption on the first $800 he makes, and a married man is exempt from taxation on the first $1,600 he makes. Over those amounts up to a certain amount, Mr. Armistead went on, the government would take a 10 per cent tax, and as the figure goes higher it would take from six to eighty per cent.

By way of example, Mr. Armistead showed that a single man making $50,000 per year would be taxed $43,480, leaving him only $6,520, and if he made $100,000 he would have to pay the government $88,480, leaving $11,520 for himself. Incomes falling in higher brackets would be taxed accordingly, Mr. Armistead said, and added that no loopholes have been left for corporations to make excess profits.

Elimintaes Greatest Cause.

The speaker said Senator Connally is certain that such a bill, taking the profits out of war, would eliminate the greatest cause of war. He continued:

"There are many money-mad men who would sacrifice blood of their own families, and who would plunge the country into war just to make money. It is a known fact that during the late world war the munitions interests were so well organized that they prevented the bombing of a munitions factory in Czechoslovakia, which if destroyed would have ended the war years earlier than it was terminated."

The second phase of the Connally bill would put what wars the United States did enter, on a cash basis. Mr. Armistead said a large amount of the taxes people pay today, and that their children will pay in years and generations to come, is spent to pay for past wars.

Parenthetically here, Mr. Armistead said "whether we like the bill or not, it has passed one house, and there seems to be little disapproval except among millionaires and munitions manufacturers."

The third phase of the Connally bill, Mr. Armistead continued, was a provision giving the President of the United States the power to take over and mobilize all natural and national resources (industry) in time of conflict. It gives the president the power to organize industry as completely as the army is organized, and to exact the same discipline from the "mobilized industry" as it exacts from the army.

Some opposition has been voiced about the bill, the speaker went on, because it gives the President as full and complete dictatorial powers as any dictator that ever trod the earth. After reviewing the three purposes and proposals of the bill, Mr. Armistead said, "it doesn't pay to lose a war—past history reveals that the United States has never fought or helped out in a war that was lost, and the last phase of the Connally bill is insurance that it will never lose a war.

Praying For Peace.

"The United States is praying for peace today, peace at home and peace from conflict with other nations, regardless of how much war the rest of the world engages in. How dearly does the United States regard peace, and how far would they go to keep out of war?" Mr. Armistead asked.

The speaker pointed out the consequences such a bill might inflict on a nation in general and business in particular, and closed by asking, "does the United States want peace badly enought to give the government this authority, and suffer the consequences that are sure to follow?"

President Wendorf recognized several of the visiting club members who responded with brief remarks.

Frost Mayor Speaks.

Mayor McCormick said the city of Frost considers the Civitan Club one of its greatest assets, and added that since its organization practically every worthwhile movement in the city has originated in that club. He said the Corsicana club was responsible for its organization, and the Frost members have a warm feeling for the Corsicana club and its members.

Curtis Patterson spoke briefly upon the organization of the Frost club, and invited the Corsicana members to visit them in the near future.

Dr. Ed L. Evans, president of the Frost Club, expressed his club's appreciation for the program, and suggested that the two clubs, as well as the Dallas Civitans (the only other Civitan club in Texas) ought to get together more often. President Evans ennumerated some of the Frost club's projects, and said that before the year is ended, their club hopes to have done a very great deal for their community.

Others who spoke briefly were W. V. Harrison and Mr. Huckabee.

State General Fund Deficit Is $2,000,000 Less

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP)—The deficit in the state's general revenue fund has dropped nearly $2,000,000 in the last 12 days.

State Treasurer Charley Lockhart reported today the current overdraft was $13,738,845, compared with $15,579,459 February 21.

The treasurer called for payment all general revenue warrants through last September 1 up to and including No. 534 of the new fiscal year.

The deficit in the Confederate pension fund was reported at $1,288,639.

PIONEER CORSICANA WOMAN DIED FRIDAY; BURIAL SATURDAY

MISS. LIDA LEA HAD RESIDED IN CORSICANA MORE THAN SIXTY YEARS

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Miss Eliza Levinia (Lida) Lea, aged 90 years, pioneer Corsicanan, who died at 633 West Collin street, early Friday night. The rites were held from the St. John's Episcopal church of which she was a long-time member and were conducted by Rev. C. R. Haden, Jr., rector of the church.

Miss Lea was a native of Knoxville, Tennessee. She came to Texas in early childhood with her parents, the late Major and Mrs Albert Miller Lea. The family resided at Gonzales and Galveston for a number of years prior to moving to Corsicana more than 60 years ago. Major Lea drew the plans for the first Episcopal church building in Corsicana in the 1870's and the name St. John's Episcopal church was given the congregation by Miss Lea's mother.

Miss Lea at one time was editor of the woman's page of this newspaper. She was a member of the U. D. C. and Texas History club at the time of her death, and for many years was a leader in civic, church and other circles of the community.

Miss Lea received a scroll of honor by Texas Centennial directors in 1936 for the story given them on the courtship and marriage of her cousin, the late Margaret Lea, and General Sam Houston. Texas patriot and president of the Republic of Texas and governor of the state. Miss Lea's father was the close friend and confidant of General Houston. The framed scroll was presented Miss Lea by Lowry Martin, business manager of the Daily Sun, one of the directors of the Texas Centennial.

Two nieces, Mrs. J. R. Roberts and Miss Lida Lea, both of Arlington, and other relatives survive.

Pallbearers were Wm. V. Mowlam. Allyn Lang, William Clarkson, Jr., A. B. Douglass, J. S. Simkins and R. L. Calkins.

Honorary pallbears were Gordon Damon, Austin; R B. Molloy, Raymond Van Hook, Richard Van Hook, C. W. Taylor and the vestrymen of St. John's church.

Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

"Soft pastel colors blend in with the furnishings in a girl's bedroom. These pillows are useful and make the room look better," explained Miss Retteger.

Miss Doris White will be the sponsor of the Currie 4-H Club.

Those present at the meeting ewre: Doris Tyner, Lynn Wilbourn, Bennie Faye Phipps, Alpha Lee Gunn, Lilla Mae Craig, Jewel Jean Smith, Bernice Price, Eunice Faye Price, Eunice Faye Massey, Pauline Lucas, Ruby Doris Massey, Earline Phipps, Margaret Crutchfield, Francis Carroll, Mary Helen Carroll, Beatrice Price, Lotta Ma Shirley, Anna Lorine Massey.

Woman State School Official Been Indicted

AUSTIN, March 5.—(AP)—Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson, second assistant state school superintendent, was indicted by the Travis county grand jury today on charges of extortion and misapplication of funds.

The extortion count was based on the charge that she collected $117 in fees which were illegal. The alleged misapplication aggregated $578.09.

Miss Wilson was expected to return to Austin tonight from a convention of the National Education Association at Atlantic City, N. J.

Miss Wilson was alleged to have extorted the $117 from five individuals during 1937.

The second indictment listed numerous items ranging from $1 upward in the claimed misapplication of funds.

The inquisitors, who had been asked to investigate anti-trust allegations, returned no indictments in that regard but asserted Texas anti-trust laws were being flagrantly violated.

They requested the legislature to make an appropriation for employment of a full-time auditor-investigator to assist Travis county grand juries in matters of such importance as anti-trust law violations.

FUNERAL SERVICES SATURDAY MORNING MISS LIDA HOUSTON

Funeral services for Miss Lida Houston, aged 73 years, who died Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock after a short illness, were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Roy A. Langston, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Miss Houston resided in Mississippi until three years ago when she came to Corsicana to make her home with her brother, R. L. Houston, and family.

Surviving are the brother, two sisters, Mrs. O. L. Harlan, Richland, and Mrs. M. T. Smith, Mississippi, and a number of other relatives.
